PAK CITY REGION COMED FOR FOR BANDITS

Establishment of Seaplane Base Is Blocked Foreshore Rights On Inner Harbor Property Refused

Move of Pacific International Airways Limited to Put Base Here Stopped by Decision of Marine and Fisheries Department; City Received Word of Refusal Yesterday Afternoon; Serious Loss to Tax-payers.

Virtual blocking of the negotiations of the City Council with the Pacific International Airways Ltd. for the establishment of a seaplane base here was given in a telegram received from the Deputy Minister of National Defence yesterday afternoon, refusing foreshore rights on properties reserved for the base in the Inner Harbor.

The decision of the Federal department brings to an end for the present a long controversy regarding the proposed use of the harbor by planes of the company for landing and taking off purposes. The City was informed that the Marine Department felt that it was not in the interests of the public to grant foreshore rights for seaplane base purposes on the city property reserved as the site for the base.

Civic authorities view with deep regret the action of the department as a long controversy regarding the proposed use of the harbor by planes of the company for landing and taking off purposes. The City was informed that the Marine Department felt that it was not in the interests of the public to grant foreshore rights for seaplane base purposes on the city property reserved as the site for the base.

Although the present project is stopped by the refusal to grant foreshore rights, the use of the harbor by seaplanes is not halted, it is understood. The question is merely one of granting rights on public property.

Alderman W. T. Straith, chairman of the city's industrial committee, which conducted the negotiations with Mr. Lowe, expressed keen disappointment on the failure of the plan.

"It is not only a private disappointment to Mr. Lowe but it is a serious setback to the taxpayers of Victoria," he declared. "It has been acknowledged in Canada and elsewhere in the world that the responsibility for providing flying accommodation rests with the municipalities and cities. For the last eighteen months the industrial committee has been working to have someone take these obligations from the city's hands as far as seaplanes were concerned."

TRAFFIC NOT HALTED
In the spring Mr. Lowe, in his lease, undertook to take care of the city's responsibility of a public nature for the next ten years. For this privilege he was prepared to pay the city $750 a year in taxes. Not only will the city lose this revenue, but sooner or later it will be in the position of having to provide its own facilities for adequate traffic.

"In addition," Alderman Straith pointed out, "this is a serious loss to Mr. Lowe. His responsibility for his loss does not rest with the city, which has done everything to facilitate the project, but with the Federal departments which have changed their front in regard to approval of the site for seaplane purposes."

"Before inducing Mr. Lowe to come to the city, we made certain from the Air Department and the Marine Department that the site had their approval and the marine agent here had given his consent. Mr. Lowe immediately made plans for the development and has spent thousands of dollars in preparation. He has seaplanes on the coast now, ready to start the service between here and Seattle."

The subsequent withdrawal of the Marine Department's approval will be a keen disappointment to him, after the expense he has incurred.

"The decision will be viewed with the utmost regret by the Mayor and City Council, as it was in a sense, a civic undertaking."

MANIPULATION OF HARBOR
"It is rather surprising to me that the people of Victoria will stand for this manipulation of the harbor which, after all, is a public harbor, which should be provided with facilities for all sorts of transportation. As far as seaplanes are concerned, one commercial company and a mail service has been operating for some time and no accidents have occurred so far."

Further developments as far as the Pacific International Airways are concerned await the return of Mr. Lowe, who is expected shortly from California. The company has been notified of the situation and is expected to announce any change of plans shortly.

Number Killed By Earthquake In Italy

Reports From Points in Northern Central Region of Country Bring Total to Twenty-seven, With Many Injured

Ancona, Italy, Oct. 30.—Twenty-seven persons were known to have lost their lives in heavy earthquake shocks in thirteen towns in the provinces of Ancona, Pesaro, and Macerata early to-day. There was great property damage throughout the area.

Twenty were killed and more than 100 injured in the town of Senigallia, on the coast, and five killed and upward of fifty injured in the province of Marche, which includes the city of Ancona.

REPAIRS AWAITED
Villages in the western part of the province had not been heard from early this afternoon. It was there the authorities felt the toll might have been increased.

Practically every house in this city of more than 50,000 inhabitants was damaged to some extent. It was considered remarkably there had been so comparatively few casualties.

The people of the city were panic stricken and refused to work indoors to-day. The streets and public squares were thronged.

Among the towns where damage was caused were Ancona, Ravenna, Forlino, Fano, Macerata, Mondavio, Senigallia, Grottole, Pesaro, and Borsano.

Communication was restored with some of the quake-ridden towns this afternoon, and military units rushed into the region reached many of the affected places.

Registration For Voters' List Closes To-morrow Night

To-morrow at 8 o'clock the lists will close for registration of voters this year. ### BALDWIN WINS TEST VOTE IN HIS PARTY

British Conservative M.P.'s and Ex-M.P.'s Vote 462 to 116 He Continue as Leader

Former Premier Tells Conservatives He Must Have Free Hand on Fiscal Matters

London, Oct. 30.—Former Premier Stanley Baldwin triumphed to-day, temporarily at least, over a turbulent opposition which was trying to oust him from the leadership of the Conservative party of Great Britain.

Some 600 Conservatives, including members of the Commons and ex-members of Commons, who will be candidates in the next general elections, and peers, met in private at Caxton Hall and sat in judgment on the man who has piloted them through stormy seas since the late Lord Balfour resigned the leadership in 1923.

By a vote of about four to one—462 to 116—a motion for a change in leadership of the party was defeated.

FACES OPPONENTS
Mr. Baldwin thus weathered one of the worst storms to beset the Conservative party in many years. Before the vote the former Premier had stalked into the crowded hall with his bulky shoulders square and wearing a grim expression to face his adversaries who had demanded the meeting be held.

His opponents charged him with being unable to adapt himself to changing conditions, with indecision and with lack of inspiration in leadership.

Mr. Baldwin's grimness melted into a wistful smile when a large portion of the throng, which included all of the great Conservatives of the country, rose and cheered him for two minutes.

He made a speech defending his policies and dramatically demanded he be given a free hand in dealing with fiscal matters.

Mr. Baldwin then demanded a show of hands to decide whether this policy was acceptable.

MAN DISCHARGED AS FIT WITH HIS SPINE FRACTURED

Armistice Period Committee Aided Him and Finally Gained Pension

Veterans Linger on in Great Pain, Require Expensive Narcotics

Discharged from the army as a fit man a local veteran struggled against adversity for years. His health was bad and he was unable to hold a job on account of recurring sickness. For four years he was a charge on the public purse.

Then he appealed to the Armistice Period Committee and explained his case. The cost of an X-ray examination was paid from the fund. The plate revealed a fracture of the base of the spine, a war disability. With this new evidence a claim for pension was made.

which was granted and made retroactive from the date of his discharge.

The above is one of many cases of service which the Armistice Period Committee has been able to render. Another case that will not have such a happy ending is that of a veteran who is a victim of cancer, which is recognized as a war disability; consequently the sufferer receives no assistance from the Department of Pensions and National Health. He is a patient in the Jubilee Hospital and for nearly twelve months the Armistice Period Committee has paid for expensive narcotics administered under medical orders to relieve his pain.

NEW WESTMINSTER AND POLICE TO SOUTH HUNT MURRAYVILLE ROBBERS

HAS BIG TASK IN JOBLESS RELIEF IN THE U.S.

Colonel Arthur Woods, above, former Police Commissioner of New York City and organizer of unemployed relief in 1921; shown by President Hoover, is now in charge of the official programme for aiding the jobless of the United States. He is working to bring about the co-operation with the federal government of industry, state and municipal governments and welfare organizations.

As a safeguard against spread of the disease, Mayor Frank Plant ordered rigid enforcement of the law requiring all dogs be tied up or held on leashes on the streets.

One of the child victims of the disease, a boy of six years, was reported to have dug his teeth into the hand of a nurse attending him in a hospital. This symptom that hydrophobia was developing in this case was considered particularly serious in view of the fact that the child, who had been inflicted only twenty-four hours previously.

A young girl bitten by the diseased animal was said to have developed an alarming temperature overnight.

SIX WERE BITTEN

QUOTA DAIRY PURCHASING PLAN FOR BRITAIN REJECTED

By Geo. Hambleton
Canadian Press Correspondent

London, Oct. 30.—Rejection of the proposal for Great Britain, a system which would grant the Dominions a larger share of the British market, is to be indicated by the draft reports which have just been presented to a committee of the Imperial Conference.

The committee under Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the British Board of Trade, to-day received draft reports on the application of the quota to British purchases of butter, cheese, eggs, canned fruit and canned fish. These drafts are still under consideration in committee and they are liable to some modification, but they are said to indicate so many difficulties lie in the way of a purchasing of dairy products as to amount to virtual rejection. The barriers in regard to dairy products are: First, the difficulty of controlling purchases made over a scattered area, and secondly, provisions in existing trade treaties between Great Britain and foreign powers.

A sub-committee which is preparing a report on the question of British buying of wheat by quotas, continued its task this afternoon. The prevailing view among the experts is it is understood, is that a wheat quota system would be more easily controlled than that of dairy products. One difficulty in this matter, however, is in ensuring that wheat shipped to the United Kingdom under the quota provisions would not subsequently be diverted elsewhere.

The discussions on the statistical aspects of the wheat quota plan have resulted in an increase in the suggested quota percentage for British purchases of Empire wheat. The original figure discussed was forty-eight per cent. Now the figure laid down as the basis of discussion is fifty-five per cent. In other words, Britain is asked to figure on purchasing fifty-five per cent of its wheat requirements from other parts of the Empire. The remaining forty-five per cent would be divided between British wheat growers and foreign countries.

The Empire premiers will meet with Premier Ramsay MacDonald at Downing Street to-morrow.

Four Safecrackers Escape Into Park in Royal City After Shooting Their Way Past Two Policemen on Big Bridge Over Fraser River; That Area and Maillardville District Searched; $300 Cash and $10,000 in Stocks, Dropped By Robbers, Is Found On Ground.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Shooting their way through a guard established on the Fraser River Bridge by two New Westminster constables, four safecrackers who obtained $10,000 in stocks and bonds and $300 cash from a store at Murrayville escaped into Queen's Park and have so far eluded all efforts of a police posse to surround them.

The $10,000 loot, apparently dropped by the robbers in their dash toward the woods of Queen's Park, was recovered. It was found on the grounds of the Mental Hospital, reposing in a small drawer which had been removed from the safe.

While the search of Queen's Park, which is in New Westminster, was at its height, word was received from Maillardville, four miles distant, that four men answering the description of the bandits had been seen there. A party of policemen hurried to the town and started a search of the bush in that vicinity.

SAFE BROKEN OPEN
The robbers smashed a large safe in P. Y. Porter's general store at Murrayville, fifteen miles southeast of New Westminster, using a sledge hammer. In addition to the securities and cash, they took a quantity of registered mail and a large parcel of stamps. Mr. Porter being postmaster of Murrayville. They also stole several rifles and some ammunition, shoes and clothing.

They next crossed the street to McLeish & McCarter's feed store, where they attempted to force open the safe, which contained $554.

Alarmed by the approach of a car in which P. Y. Porter was a passenger, the men dashed from the store and fled toward New Westminster in an automobile reported stolen from H. F. Gates, Vancouver.

The occupants of the Porter car discovered the robbery and notified the police. Constables W. J. Curry and Fred Olsen hastened to the Fraser River Bridge, where they encountered the bandits' car and were greeted by a fusillade of shots, but suffered no injury. Curry and Olsen gave chase and found the bandit car near Queen's Park. Apparently the robbers had taken refuge in the park. Search of the vicinity resulted in the recovery of the box containing the cash and stocks and bonds.

PROSPECTS FOR CIVIC ELECTION ARE CONSIDERED
Only Five Weeks to Polling Day; No Candidates Announced Yet

With civic election day barely more than five weeks away, and no candidates definitely announced yet, interest in the elections is beginning to awaken. Within the next week or so, it is expected prospective candidates for the contest will announce themselves.

As far as the majority is concerned Mayor Anscomb, who is concluding his second straight term as chief magistrate, has refused to commit himself. The hope has been expressed that he will again stand, in which case he might be returned by acclamation.

There is practically certain to be a contest for aldermanic seats. The retiring members are: Alderman E. S. Woodward, James Adams, H. O. Litchfield, W. T. Straith and W. H. Cullin. It is expected that all will be in the field again, with the possible exception of Alderman Woodward, who has interests in Vancouver. Ex-Alderman John Harvey is considered a prospect for this field, as well as ex-Alderman William Marchant.

In the School Board the retiring members are Chairman George Jay, Trustees W. C. Moreby and G. A. Heiden. Rumor has it that all vacant seats on the board will be contested.

Mr. Joseph North has been announced as a candidate for the police commission, opposing Commissioner W. E. Stansland, who it is reported, will again appeal to the public on his fine record in this branch of the civic service.

TRIBE HUNTED IN JUNGLES OF FORMOSA

Japanese Troops Pursue Savages Who Killed Eighty-six Japanese Residents

Canadian Press
Tokio, Oct. 30.—A tribe of head-hunting savages who went on a raid and killed at least eighty-six Japanese in central Formosa, was being hunted in the jungles and mountain fastness of that island to-day by 2,000 soldiers and police.

The punitive expedition, commanded by Major-General Kanata, faced the handicap of operating in tropical rains, but evidenced a determination to track down the savages and prevent any repetition of the massacre.

Troops occupying Musha, the village in which the killings were done Monday, found the savages had decapitated their victims and had taken the heads as trophies.

The Japanese force occupied the town yesterday evening only after it had beaten off two savage attacks. Today the expedition pushed slowly to

BOARDS FAVOR NATIONAL PARK NORTH OF CANAL

Executive at Duncan Suggests Transfer of Strathcona Park to Dominion Control

Special to The Times
Duncan, Oct. 30.—Executive of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island went on record here yesterday as being in favor of the creation of a sea-level national park north of the Alberni Canal.

The executive dealt with a resolution to the effect that "this meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, representing the public opinion of Vancouver Island, respectfully petition the Premier and the Government of British Columbia to make it their immediate objective to see that the national park area be selected on tide-water on the west coast of Vancouver Island and be located at some point north of the Alberni Canal, since such location will fulfill all requirements for a national park, embracing many points of interest and be easily accessible to the people of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, and the domestic and foreign tourists."

P. B. Fowler, representing the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, took the position that the resolution was premature. A number of delegates took part in prolonged discussion, including President P. Cowman of the Nanaimo Board, L. A. Hanna, H. S. Reid, E. Holmwood, Leighton Theseus, W. P. McPhee and Rev. Montague Bruce.

COAL FOR POWER
A report was presented by the committee appointed to look into the respective merits of steam coal power, and hydro-electric power. After much discussion it was resolved that the executive ask the government to very seriously consider the use of coal, before granting any privileges to any corporation for hydro-electric power.

C. L. Harrison, Victoria, introducing the report of the committee on the Strathcona Park water powers, gave two reasons for its acceptance. The cost of developing the power at Campbell River is $100,000,000, as the ground quivered under their feet.

Arezzo is the farthest inland point thus far reported to have felt the shock.

range of the Apennines and far to the north of the disaster of last July. Practically the whole of the Italian Peninsula felt the shocks.

The government before dawn had dispatched relief companies to the area. The rescuers had not at mid-afternoon been able to convey any adequate report of the destruction.

SEISMOGRAPH RECORDS
The first shock, centring at a distance of 9.15 a.m. and the second at 9.30, according to advices from the seismographic institute at Urbino.

In Ancona the quake was preceded by a frightful booming noise. The marble front of the provincial headquarters palace fell into the Piazza Roma. The tower of the church of the Holy Sacrament partly collapsed.

Fabrizio, famous for its paper manufacturing, experienced severe tremors, but there were no victims.

Telephones and telegraph lines from Ancona, Fano and Macerata to Rome were thrown down.

MAYOR REPORTS
The mayor of Fano, in a telephone conversation, said ten persons, one of them a soldier, had been injured there, and that the church of the Madonna del Ponte Nefauri had been damaged. Two persons also were injured in the village of Mondafio.

REPORTS DESIRED
The authorities immediately sent motor cycles, police and army trucks to the isolated villages and towns. They had in mind the culture region earthquake of July 23, when the death toll, at first believed small, increased enormously with reports from small villages which had been cut off.

New York Board Rules Off Members of Firm of Prince and Whitely

New York, Oct. 30.—The New York Stock Exchange to-day announced the expulsion of G. Lisle Forman and Morrison E. Orr, members of the firm of Prince and Whitely, which recently was suspended for insolvency.

but wireless communication at that point has been discontinued for the time being. Efforts to locate the flier at other wireless points has proved futile so far.

Pilot Renahan and his companions were on the way to Atlin, where they planned to make their base for a flight over the Liard River district in an effort to locate Captain E. J. Burke and two companions, missing since October 10.

DORRANT DELAYED
Meanwhile Pilot Frank Dorrant, United States flier, and a mechanic, who flew Liard River post from Atlin last Monday and reported the Burke party had reached the post on time and departed October 11 for the return flight to Atlin, are marooned at Paddy's Lake, fifty miles from Atlin, awaiting a supply of gasoline which is being rushed in by motor and dog team.

Atlin, B.C., Oct. 30.—Weather conditions continued unfavorable for flying in the Liard River district. Heavy wet snow and rain reported south to Echo Lake. At 11 o'clock this forenoon visibility was practically nil.

No further word has been received from Pilot Frank Dorrant, marooned at Paddy's Lake, but it is expected he will be able to resume his flight to Atlin when conditions improve. Sufficient gasoline will be available late to-day.

Pilot Renahan, from whom word is awaited, is well known in Victoria. For six weeks before he started on the northern search flight he was the regular pilot of the plane daily engaged on the Liard River service. Prior to that, during the summer, he flew a plane in the Vancouver-Alaska service. Thus he is well acquainted with the route he was following from Vancouver north.

Legislature By-election Gives Them S. Waterloo; Conservatives Hold Three Seats

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Premier G. Howard Ferguson's following in the Ontario Legislature to-day is one less than its former total as a result of by-elections held yesterday.

South Waterloo was won by the Liberal Party.

Three other constituencies, South Lanark, South Perth and Nipissing, were retained by the Conservative column as the result of the balloting. The voting was generally lighter than in the same constituencies in the provincial general election of 1929.

E. E. Suedman, Conservative, Lanark South, 1,000 majority.

Charles R. Harrison, Conservative, Nipissing, 3,000 majority.

C. E. Richardson, Conservative, Perth South, 241 majority.

W. E. Sinclair, K.C., leader of the provincial party, expressed pleasure at the result in South Waterloo. "Most wonderful," he commented. "The result goes to show that what can be done when the principles of Liberalism are thoroughly enunciated."

Premier Ferguson, in London, Eng., was kept informed by cable of the progress of the count and knew the results before retiring for the night.

The Conservative supporters have been elected in eight of the nine seats which were opened by the recent elevation to the cabinet of five members and deaths and resignations of four.

STANDING OF PARTIES
The standing of parties in the Legislature as a result of the by-elections is: Conservatives, 88; Liberals, 14; Progressives, 4; Liberal-Progressives, 3; Independent Conservatives, 2; United Farmers of Ontario, 1.

LUIS REFUSES TO RESIGN HIS BRAZIL POST

Despite Revolution Says He Will Be President Till November 15

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Oct. 30.—Refusal of Dr. Washington Luis, ousted President of Brazil, to resign his office has made difficult foreign recognition of the Provisional Government which grew out of the recent successful revolution.

Dr. Washington Luis, although held a prisoner in the Copacabana fortress here by the temporary government, has refused to sign away his authority. In diplomatic circles it was said to-day recognition desired by the military junta probably could not be brought about much before November 15.

The deposed President is said to have told persons permitted to visit him he was the head of the only legal government in Brazil and would remain so until his term should expire at the middle of next month.

The Brazilian revolution was accounted by dissatisfaction over the election of Dr. Julio Prestes, who was to have been inaugurated to succeed Dr. Luis and was last reported a refugee at the British consulate in Sao Paulo.

VARGAS NEARS RIO
Daily correspondents have been in progress between the military junta and revolutionary officials who have been arriving from the various parts of Brazil. The biggest is scheduled for tomorrow, when Getulio Vargas, defeated Liberal candidate in the last presidential election and the choice of the insurgents for the presidency, will arrive. It had been expected he would leave Sao Paulo yesterday evening and arrive to-day, but latest advices said he had postponed his departure until this afternoon.

Meanwhile, the military junta has ordered the Banco do Brasil to suspend the issue of paper money, an equivalent of $30,000,000, authorized by the former administration. Less than one-third of this already has been issued.

REDS ARE JAILED
There were rumors to-day the Communists who participated in disorders several days ago would again cause trouble in some sections of the capital. The police stated, however, that there was nothing in the reports. Many Communists have been jailed.

Newspapers to-day reported the arrest by order of the Minister of War of General Diogenes Tourinho, former commander of the army detachment in the state of Minas Geraes.

A Mother Discovers A New Bedtime Story

Life Savers, Ltd. Prescott, Ont.

Dear Sirs:

I have just put my two children to bed. Before I retire myself, I am writing you this letter to express my gratitude for Life Savers.

Like all youngsters, my children love sweets, but like all mothers, I know the danger of over-indulging their appetites. Of course by the time my children are old enough to be able to read, I shall be able to tell them the story of the Life Savers. I have been told that the Life Savers are the best of all sweets, and I am sure they will bring about perfect behavior.

Since then, Life Savers have been the standard confection in our home. Both my youngsters clamor for them, and a promise of a Life Saver will bring about perfect behavior.

Each night in putting them to bed, I tell them a bedtime story, while we all enjoy Life Savers. I find that the delicious taste soothes the stomach and encourages the youngsters to a peaceful rest. This is a bedtime story to Life Savers—they really have solved a big problem for me.

Good night to you, gentlemen.

Mrs. F. N. Phillips

NO MORE YET FROM RENAHAN PLANE PARTY

but wireless communication at that point has been discontinued for the time being. Efforts to locate the flier at other wireless points has proved futile so far.

Pilot Renahan and his companions were on the way to Atlin, where they planned to make their base for a flight over the Liard River district in an effort to locate Captain E. J. Burke and two companions, missing since October 10.

DORRANT DELAYED
Meanwhile Pilot Frank Dorrant, United States flier, and a mechanic, who flew Liard River post from Atlin last Monday and reported the Burke party had reached the post on time and departed October 11 for the return flight to Atlin, are marooned at Paddy's Lake, fifty miles from Atlin, awaiting a supply of gasoline which is being rushed in by motor and dog team.

Atlin, B.C., Oct. 30.—Weather conditions continued unfavorable for flying in the Liard River district. Heavy wet snow and rain reported south to Echo Lake. At 11 o'clock this forenoon visibility was practically nil.

No further word has been received from Pilot Frank Dorrant, marooned at Paddy's Lake, but it is expected he will be able to resume his flight to Atlin when conditions improve. Sufficient gasoline will be available late to-day.

Pilot Renahan, from whom word is awaited, is well known in Victoria. For six weeks before he started on the northern search flight he was the regular pilot of the plane daily engaged on the Liard River service. Prior to that, during the summer, he flew a plane in the Vancouver-Alaska service. Thus he is well acquainted with the route he was following from Vancouver north.

PAGE OF R-101 LOG IS SHOWN AT INQUIRY

Motors of British Dirigible Were Working Nine Minutes Before Crash

London, Oct. 30.—A page from the log of the British dirigible R-101 was introduced at to-day's session of the government's inquiry to show the engines of the ill-fated ship were working smoothly nine minutes before it crashed at Beauvais, France, October 5, with a loss of forty-eight lives.

William Jowitt, Attorney-General, conducting examination of testimony, sprang a sensation by announcing a sheet from one of the engine logs of the blimp, kept while it was on the last flight had been found near the scene of the disaster and forwarded to London.

The Attorney-General said this document had proved of the utmost importance in the investigation since it showed the engine revolutions and cruising speed of the craft right up to 2 o'clock on the morning of the catastrophe. The dirigible crashed nine minutes later.

OIL PRESSURE
Sir William said everything appeared normal aboard the R-101 up to 2 o'clock. Then an imperfect entry in the log regarding oil pressure indicated the officer had not had time to finish his entry.

Examination of witnesses was started this morning.

Sir John Simon, presiding, outlined the scope of the inquiry. He indicated he intended to "handle the investigation without gloves."

TRIALS MOST IMPORTANT
Sir John declared it was of special importance to understand the regulations governing trials of airplanes built by private firms and those built by the Air Ministry.

"We are concerned with the important question whether as much care was taken before this ship went on her long voyage as would have been insisted upon if the ship had been built by someone else," Sir John said.

Gas In Stomach Hurts the Heart

Thousands of Cases of Heart Failure Are Caused by Gas Indigestion. Says Medical Writer

Gas pressure from sour, acid, upset stomach is not only nauseating and bloats uncomfortable but some day it may prove fatal.

When your meals are followed by bloating, a feeling of fullness or pressure, shortness of breath and pains around the heart, you may be sure that the acid condition of your stomach is producing a GAS that is pushing upwards and crowding your heart. That's the reason for the shortness of breath and sharp, shooting pains.

Whether young or old, the presence of stomach gas is truly serious and should always be given prompt and careful attention.

To quickly banish gas, cleanse and sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acidity—nothing is better than the dairy or "as needed" use of ordinary Bismarck Manna. It gives almost instant relief.

Any good druggist can supply Bismarck Manna, in powder or tablet form, at very small cost—but be sure you get BISMARCK Manna, just recommended by Doctor and Druggists throughout the civilized world for more than 15 years.

London, Oct. 30.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, yesterday carried the subject of Palestine formally into the House of Commons by asking the whole matter of British policy be debated by the House. Criticism of the activities of Premier Ramsay MacDonald accompanied his demand.

"The Prime Minister has said there is no departure in the recent white paper from the policy on Palestine that has existed under previous governments," Lloyd George said.

"Well, if there is no departure in policy it is very remarkable the whole Jewish world should take exception to the British statement."

The Liberal leader continued that there would be serious consequences unless the question should be cleared up. His address formed the outstanding feature of the Commons sitting when members continued to reply to Tuesday's Speech from the Throne.

Those expecting Lloyd George's speech would shed light on the intentions of the Liberals regarding specific measures to be introduced by the government, were disappointed.

AMBULANCE KILLS BOY

Washington, Oct. 30.—While volunteer firemen were rescuing a nineteen-year-old youth from imprisonment from beneath tons of rock in a thirty-foot well near here yesterday, an ambulance rushing to the scene to take him to hospital, struck and killed a five-year-old boy, Louis Barrett, son of a farmer at Glenmont, Md., was removed after being imprisoned more than four hours by a cave-in which occurred while he was clearing the well. The boy killed was William Nichols Jr., who lived near Glenmont.

TRACES OF OLD ONTARIO INDIAN VILLAGES FOUND

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 30.—Four ashbeds have been uncovered by excavators on the Grand River reserve of the Six Nations Indians near Brantford. This came about as a result of a search for the site of an ancient town of the early Indians, and as the four different ashbeds were one above the other, it is thought no fewer than four different encampments of Indians have been revealed and it is surmised that possibly a period of about sixty or ninety years elapsed between encampments.

W. J. Wintenberg of the Archaeological Branch of the Government at Ottawa is an authority for the statement on the find, which is regarded as important from an archaeological point of view.

The site of the find is about a mile below Chislewood, one-time home of the late Pauline Johnson, the noted Indian poetess, and it was reported to the Brant Historical Society. It is known there were Attiandaron, or neutral Indian settlements in this area centuries ago, and Mr. Wintenberg is quoted as expressing the belief their identity might be established. He has suggested the placing of markers indicating the location of the settlements or villages in question.

BONES FOUND

Mr. Wintenberg states the Attiandaron, or neutral, Indians occupied this district some hundreds of years ago when Father La Roche Daillon, a Recollect missionary, in 1626 visited what is now the Grand River Valley, and he left a diary recording the fact that such villages existed hereabouts. The articles unearthed in the excavations include pottery, stone awls, flints, the bones of such animals as deer, racoon, wild dog and bear, also wild turkey, wild ducks, cranes and pigeons, fish vertebrae, turtle and clam shells, besides numerous burned limestone which had been used in fireplaces.

One of the ashbeds is about forty feet in width and seventy-five feet long. The beds in some cases were palisaded with stakes or saplings driven into the ground two feet or more apart and interwoven with willows, thus forming a wicker work and constituting a sort of retaining wall.

So Easy to Make*Tempting Pancakes with Aunt Jemima are ready in a few minutes

It seems like magic that pancakes, so toothsome, so delicious, can be made so quickly. Just stir milk or water with an equal quantity of Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour, cook on a moderate fire, and presto! golden brown pancakes that make your mouth water.

"I'm in Town, Honey"

In plantation days, Aunt Jemima's pancakes were famous throughout the Old South, a land of epicures. Today, in Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour the identical rare flours come to you ready mixed. You get the same appetizing flavor but require only a few minutes to make.

Buckwheats, with their satisfying tang, can be made just as easily with Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour, or, for variety, try waffles, muffins, or pancakes rolled in jelly. Keep both kinds of Aunt Jemima in the pantry and be ready for any demand.

SCULLIN SPEAKS ON CONFERENCE*Marks Important Step in Empire Evolution, Says Australian Premier

London, Oct. 30.—Premier Scullin of Australia declared yesterday evening that when the task of the Imperial Conference are completed the present theoretical limitation on the powers of the Dominion Parliaments will disappear and the British Parliament at Westminster will definitely recognize and place on a legal footing the equal status of the Parliaments and Governments of the United Kingdom and the Dominions.

Premier Scullin's address was broadcast.

After this had been accomplished, no law passed by a Dominion would be held invalid by reason of its being inconsistent with an act applying in Great Britain, Premier Scullin said.

The Australian Premier said this would be an important step in the evolution of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Turning to matters of trade and quoting figures to show Australia's desire to promote Empire trade, Premier Scullin said nearly half Great Britain's exports to Australia entered the Commonwealth duty free because of their British origin, whereas similar goods of foreign origin were taxed.

H. P. WHITNEY FUNERAL HELD IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 30.—Prominent figures in New York society, politics, business and sports yesterday attended the funeral services for the late Harry Payne Whitney, sportsman and financier, who owned one of the country's largest fortunes, at St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church on Park Avenue.

More than a thousand stood outside in the rain, while the church was filled with friends of the late citizen. Among them were members of the Whitney and Vanderbilt families, Ethel Root, George F. Baker, Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams and Joseph E. Widener.

Two men who played with Whitney on the "Big Board" for the team which won the international cup from England in 1909 sat by his side. They were Devereaux Milburn and Lawrence Waterbury.

Floral pieces from virtually every prominent family in the United States banked the entire chancel and altar of the church. Among them was a great floral horseshoe, the gift of jockeys and trainers who had borne the Whitney colors.

The simple service was the usual Episcopal ritual for the dead. The eulogy, Dr. Endicott Peabody, headmaster of the Groton School, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Robert Horwood, rector of the church. Burial was in the family plot at Woodlawn.

Whitney, aged 58, the reputed possessor of more than $100,000,000, died of pneumonia Sunday night at his home on Fifth Avenue.

LUIS REPORTED IN RIO NOW AT MEXICAN EMBASSY

Mexico City, Oct. 30.—Foreign Secretary Estrada today said he had received a cable from the Mexican Embassy at Rio de Janeiro yesterday evening which led him to believe Dr. Washington Luis, deposed President of Brazil, had taken refuge there.

Senior Estrada added the message gave the last name as "Luis," not "Luisa," but he believed that was an error in transmission.

He said another message from the Embassy described the family of the refugee as leaving the diplomatic shelter and returning to their homes, but did not indicate the man believed to be the ousted executive had departed.

The newspaper El Universal also was advised by a correspondent this morning that Luis had gone to the Mexican Embassy.

Dispatches from Rio de Janeiro have stated that since the Brazilian President was overthrown last Friday he had been a prisoner in fortress Copacabana.

MORE POLICE AND FIREMEN FOR CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Plans for employing 840 additional firemen and 5,000 additional policemen as a means of reducing the number of Chicago's jobless were being considered by city officials today.

Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich, announced he would submit the proposal to increase the fighting forces to the Emmerson commission on unemployment. By employing 840 more fire fighters the Chicago fire department's strength would be raised to the minimum standard urged by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and Engineers, he said.

Acting Police Commissioner John Alcock said the plan to employ 5,000 more policemen would cost only about $1,000,000 the first year, would reduce hold-ups and burglaries and speed prosperity by putting the salary money into circulation. His proposal will be presented at the next council meeting.

Prospectors Go Through Ice At Pas; Both Drown

The Pas, Man., Oct. 30.—Two prospectors plunged through the ice of Herd Lake Tuesday and were drowned. The two men, Charles Staback and Fred Miller, veteran northmen, were crossing the lake with their dog team, carrying a cargo on their sleds.

According to meagre details reaching here, the man at the front of the team fell through the ice first. His companion, it is stated, attempted to save him with a long pole. The treacherous ice cracked and the two men went to their deaths.

Newcomers Bolster Detroit Entry In National Hockey League

THE SPORTS MIRROR

HOCKEY this season may lose one of its most colorful figures of the last two decades in the person of Frank Nighbor, former center ice player of the Ottawa Senators. According to word from the east it appears that Nighbor will be out of the game entirely. Nighbor is the property of the Toronto club to whom he was traded last season. This year he was tendered a contract to act in the capacity of coach for the coming season. This he signed and forwarded to the Toronto club, but the document did not reach its destination for several days. In the meantime, Art Duncan, another veteran member of the Maple Leafs, was given the job.

Then the Detroit Olympics of the International Hockey League entered into negotiations with the Toronto club for the services of Nighbor. They wanted him to replace Art Duncan, but he refused to accept terms offered. Jack Adams, manager of the Detroit National Hockey League club, acting through the Olympics, with consent of the Toronto club got in touch with Nighbor at the latter's home in Pembroke. Terms offered by Adams were satisfactory, but Nighbor was unable to report for duty at the specified time so the deal was called off and Bernie Morris appointed coach of the Olympics.

Toronto sport writers have classed Nighbor as a hold-out, say he is difficult to satisfy and that the Toronto club may put him on the surplus list, all of which appears unfair to one of the game's greatest players.

According to Ed. Baker, Ottawa sports scribe, Nighbor is not a hold-out, but he has made his mistake in not wiring his acceptance of the contract offered him. The fact that he called sign the contract and forward it by mail is conclusive evidence that he was not holding out for increased salary.

Hockey may have done much for Nighbor, but it must not be forgotten that he has also done much for hockey. He has been playing the great winter game for about twenty years and has always been a credit to the sport. His record as a player is second to none and he will long be remembered as one of the game's greatest.

Howie Morenz who recently signed a two-year contract with the Montreal Canadiens is twenty-seven years of age and has been a consistent star since he joined the "Flying Frenchmen" in 1923 when Cecil Hart beat him in a sensational game. He was a junior hockey player and was with Stratford when Canadiens obtained him.

From the first he made good, and has been a leading scorer, winner of the Hart Trophy, and general record breaker in the league. No player has been more successful in the "Stratford Streak," "Hurdling Howie," "Crimson Meteor," "Canadian Comet" and other names indicative of speed and daring. The theory as been expounded that his remarkable speed would diminish his energy and his reckless play slow him up but last year he was just as fast as ever. He scored as many as five goals in a game and three times in his life scored three in succession, a notably difficult feat in hockey.

Detroit's National Hockey League team are no longer Cougars. They are Falcons. They are birds instead of beasts. In an effort to whip up interest in the club which fell to a low ebb last year it was decided to change the name of the team.

Billie Beveridge may, or may not be with the Ottawa Senators this winter in the National Hockey League race, but he is sure to be in the capital for a while yet. While Ottawa club officials have not announced just where the portly and talented net guardian will play or what will be done with him, it is known that Ottawa have sent a request to Detroit Cougars asking for Beveridge's pads and equipment.

On loan to the Detroit club last winter, Beveridge played brilliantly in his first season in National League hockey and it is no secret that Jack Adams has tried unsuccessfully to buy him. Connie Smythe is also known to have had an eye on Beveridge, but he has nothing to say regarding any deal.

Seven Promising Minor Stars Are Secured By Adams

Smiling Manager of Falcons, as Team is Now Known, Confident He Will Land Team in Play-offs; George Hay Succeeds Reg. Noble as Captain of Squad; Six Members of Last Year's Team Return; Herb Stuart, Former Olympic Goalie, Who Has Played in Victoria, One of New Members.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 30.—Seven promising newcomers to National League Hockey, a new captain, and a new name for his club are giving "Smiling Jack" Adams, manager of Detroit's ice squad, renewed confidence in his ability to land the team in the 1931 play-offs.

Because fans found it difficult to pronounce correctly the old title, "The Cougars," officials of the Olympia Arena, the club owners, have renamed the team. Henceforth it will be known as "The Falcons."

KEATING IN FINE VICTORY OVER NEWSIES

Ralph Mitchell Leads Suburban Hoopsters to 32 to 10 Victory in City League

Foresters Rally to Defeat Hanbury's; Hustlers in Close Win Over Normal

Keating, Foresters and Hustlers were the winning teams in the city hoop games played at the High School gymnasium yesterday evening with Ralph Mitchell and his boys handing The Colonist a 32 to 10 defeat; The Foresters nailing out Hanbury's, 19 to 16, and the Hustlers defeating The Normal School, 18 to 12.

Playing a short, fast passing game that carried them close to the basket for sure shots, the suburbanites played great ball to defeat the morning newspapermen. In the first half the Keatings piled up a ten-point lead, mainly through the ability of Mitchell, Macdonald, and Purvis to find the basket. In the final half the same sharp-shooting set of forwards carried The Colonist guards plenty of trouble and they increased their team's lead by twelve more points. Although the Keating offense was very strong, the back division played great ball also.

Ralph Mitchell, with fifteen points was the leading scorer. The teams and individual scores follow:

Keating—Mitchell (15), Turgoose (6), Turman, Marchant (5), Rivers (1), and Atkinson (1).
Colonist—Dowds, Rutledge, Borden (4), MacDonald (2), Pillar (3), Elliott, Yeomans (1).

Putting up a better game than in their first appearance, Hanbury's five save the Foresters plenty to worry about before they admitted defeat, and with a little more luck with their shooting might possibly have checked up a win.

BAKERS GAIN LEAD
In the first half the Bakers piled up a 12 to 9 lead, and it was late in the first half before their opponents overtook them. Cann and Ross were the main threats for the winners. Alf Hood turned in a great performance for the Bakers' team, collecting twelve of his team's total of sixteen points.

The teams and individual scores follow:
Forester—Cann (7), Doherty, Ross (6), Irving (2), Darrow, Clark, Moir, Gandy (4), and Fennell.
Hanbury's—Fennell (3), Bowcott, Hood (12), Cox, Newell, Storey and Barnswell (2).
Playing with a team much stronger than the one they fielded in their opening appearance, the Normal School almost pulled a surprise in their game with the Hustlers. The winners have Ed Gibson to thank for their win, as this young man went through the opposing defense for eleven points.

Alan Lemarquand refereed all games. The teams and individual scores follow:
Normal School—Whymann (2), Hall, Hanna, Guidt, McLean (2), Wallach (2), Cobus (2), and Quayle (4).
Hustlers—Macmurchie (1), Gibson (11), Robinson, Martin (4), Johnson (2), Menzies and Fraser.

SUNDAY FOOTBALL

To the Sports Editor:—I read in Tuesday night's issue of The Times a letter regarding playing football in Nanaimo on Sunday, written by W. L. Craig. I do not see any more harm in playing football on Sundays than playing golf or any other game. I am resident of a district near Nanaimo and I know it's our only chance to see our favorite game, as we don't get Saturday afternoons off like Victoria or Vancouver people. A large part of the crowd at games in Nanaimo come from miles around, who do not get any other time off except Sundays, so why close down on their enjoyment. I suppose the reason why Sunday football is not allowed in Vancouver or Victoria is that people of a certain class are too narrow-minded. Why not stop everything, golf, auto riding, boating, etc. and sit around and mope. H. JACKSON, Nanaimo.

Threatened Boycott By Majors Is Worrying Minor Baseball Loops

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Somewhat disturbed by the major league boycott threat, the American Association to-day attempted to call a conference of all minor baseball leagues to establish a definite policy in regard to the league draft controversy.

The decision to call the conference was reached after an all-day conference by American Association officials yesterday evening. The meeting probably will be held next month in Chicago.

Unable to agree with the minors on the draft, the majors warned that on and after next December 1 all relations between non-draft leagues and the major leagues would be severed.

What a Grand And Glorious Feeling He Must Have Had

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Herbert C. Pries, a steel mill brakeman, trudged home from work yesterday and found the end of the rainbow. Mrs. Pries was waving a telegram saying he had just won $67,729 on his ticket on The Pen in the Canadian Army and Navy Cambridge-shire Sweepstakes at Newmarket, England. Pries took it calmly. He had always known just what he would do if he had the money. He will build a home of his own, invest the rest at 4 per cent and keep right on working.

"In times like these," he explained, "a man is lucky to have a job. I want to hang on to my job because it is good work and a swell bunch of fellows to work with."

BASKET BY DIROM WINS

Duncan Senior Basketbballers Defeat Victoria C.P.S. After Overtime

John Dirom's basket in the second overtime period gave Duncan Senior a thrilling victory over the Victoria C.P.S. by 28 to 26 at Duncan yesterday evening.

With both teams playing great ball, Duncan forged into an early lead, being ahead 20 to 14 at half time. In the second half the Victoria team put on a great spurt to draw even at 25-all before the final whistle.

In the first of the five minute extra periods, both squads made one out of two shots count while Dirom scored his only basket of the evening in the final session to give the home team the game.

The teams and individual scores follow:
Duncan—Macdonald, 7; Fletcher, H. Talbot, 8; Wylie, 6; A. Dirom, 2; J. Dirom, 2; and L. Talbot.
C.P.S.—Butler, 7; Davis, 4; Viggers, Robinson, Skillings, 9; Forbes, 1; Faerber, 1 and McKenzie 4.
In the preliminary game, the Shell Oil hoopers defeated the visiting Victoria Royals, 23 to 6.

Willows won all four men's doubles while their women players also came out victorious without losing a match. The mixed doubles saw Willows take five of the eight matches played. The scores followed with the Willows players first mentioned:

SONNENBERG WINS AFTER BEING OUT

Heavyweight Wrestling Champ and D. George Out After Collision

Gus First to Recover and Gain Deciding Fall; George Goes Away in Ambulance

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Gus Sonnenberg defended whatever claim he has to the heavyweight wrestling championship successfully against Don George, former University of Michigan grid star before 16,000 fans here yesterday evening. The exhibition ended in a head-on collision of the grapplers in mid-ring which knocked them both out, but Sonnenberg rallied first and rolled on top of George for the deciding fall.

Sonnenberg took the first fall in forty-five minutes twenty-six seconds with a jackknife arm scissors and double wristlock. George took the second in thirty minutes one second.

The collision came in twelve minutes two seconds. An ambulance was called, but it was not determined whether either of the wrestlers was hurt seriously.

George was carried from the ring to the ambulance and taken to a receiving hospital.

MANY SEEK ICE BERTHS

Twenty-four Players Show Form in Spirited Work Outs of Montreal Maroons

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Practice of the Montreal Maroons and would-be Maroons again failed to answer the question that has almost become a standing joke in the dressing rooms: "Who is going to Windsor?" Of the twenty-four men now trying out for regular berths on the Maroon team, at least nine will be sent to the Windsor Bulldogs, and the battle for the steady places has made the twice-daily work-outs almost as spirited as the regular league games which start a fortnight hence.

Four regular squads continue to work out at the Forum although the personnel of each continue to change daily.

BENEFIT GAME
Saturday's pre-season charity game promises to be one of the keenest tussles of the season. Maroons from last year's amateur ranks will match speed and skill with the regular Montreal squad, making the game in reality an amateur-professional struggle. The game will probably help Manager Munro decide the complexion of this year's squad.

Arsenal Battles Huddersfield At Home On Saturday

Leaders of the English First Division Soccer Need Victory to Stay Out in Front; Aston Villa and Sheffield Wednesday, Tied for Second Place Two Points in Rear, Will Tackle Blackburn and Sunderland, Respectively; Great Match Expected in Scottish First Division When Celtic Entertain Partick Thistle, League Leaders.

London, Oct. 30.—The feature game of the fixtures of the English soccer league on Saturday will be the meeting between Arsenal and Huddersfield Town at Huddersfield. The Londoners have now pulled out into a clear two-point lead over Aston Villa and Sheffield Wednesday, who are bracketed in second place. The villa meets Blackburn Rovers at Birmingham, while the Wednesday locks horns with Sunderland at Sheffield. On form the villa and the Wednesday should win, and if Huddersfield can beat Arsenal there can be a triple tie at the head of the championship table.

In the Second Division, Everton, leading the pack, meets Reading, who are the tallenders and, of course, should win. Preston North End, runners-up, will be hosts to Barnsley and look like grabbing off a couple of points, which will leave the situation at the top of the table as it is now.

LEADERS SHOULD WIN
While Notts County, leaders in the southern section of the Third Division, are travelers on Saturday, they should not meet defeat at Exeter City and in any event are so far out in front that their lead is in no danger. In the northern section, Lincoln, the pace-setters, visit Rochdale and the worst beat should happen to them is a division of the points.

In the Scottish First Division two matches are outstanding. Celtic entertain the present league leaders, Partick Thistle, at Parkhill, and a great struggle should result. Rangers battle with Aberdeen at Ibrox Park and, unless the former are definitely on the down-grade, as has been suggested by defeats they have suffered this season, should garner a couple of points.

NAVY SCORE SECOND WIN TO HOLD LEAD

Defeat Hudson's Bay 4 to 1 in Wednesday League Football Match Yesterday

Are Only Undefeated Club; Garrison Show Strength to Turn Back Saanich 6 to 1

Gaining the lead in the first five minutes of the game the Navy sprang a surprise win in Wednesday League football yesterday by handing the Hudson's Bay a 4 to 1 setback at the Royal Athletic Park. In the other game of the afternoon the Garrison scored a 6 to 1 victory over Saanich United at the Work Point Barracks. The Navy are now leading by a two-point margin over the Garrison, with the Hudson's Bay and Saanich United tied for third place, each one point behind. The Navy are the only undefeated team in the league.

Although the Navy trotted out a team strengthened by the addition of Stan Wright and Frank Tupman, they were no match for the sailors. The men in blue gave a fine exhibition of football, their long passing and splendid defense play giving them a decided edge on the play. In the latter stages of the first half the Navy were pressing hard, but their forwards gave a poor exhibition of shooting, and in the bargain the departmentals missed two chances to score from penalty kicks.

NAVY OPEN SCORING
Five minutes after the game started the Navy took the lead with Walker beating Shrimpton following a scramble in the Navy's goal. Shortly after the Navy were awarded their first penalty for a heavy charge by Porteous, the Navy goalie, on Wright. Woodley drove the ball into the goal's arms. The Navy pressed following this, and Shrimpton was called upon to stop several hard shots from the boots of Robinson, Walker and Hilland. Just before half-time the Navy were awarded another penalty when Wright was heavily charged near the goal mouth. Again Woodley failed to score, Porteous pulling off a fine save.

The second half had only been in progress a short time when Cosler gave the Navy a two-goal lead, banging the ball into the net after Tupman had been misdirected. Ten minutes later Hilland made it 3 to 0, converting a cross from left wing by Cosler. The Navy's final goal was scored by Edwards, following a corner kick.

The Bay's lone goal came a few minutes before time, with Woodley beating Porteous with a fast drive. Armstrong refereed.

The teams were as follows:
Navy—Porteous, Whyte, Walter, Roberts, Sadler, Plummer, Cosler, Walker, Robinson, Edwards and Hilland.
Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Tupman, Armstrong, Davis, Woodley, Oakman, Newell, Fish, Wright, Cull and McIlroy.

A well-balanced Garrison team found little trouble winning from Saanich United. The Tommies showed excellent form and at no time did the Saanich team look like a winner. Shortly after the start McAllister, at inside right, booted home the Garrison's opening goal. Still forcing the play Bradshaw and Quinn rattled shots past Restall in quick order. Ten minutes before half-time Saanich were awarded a penalty, but Davidson booted the ball against the upright.

The second half was all Garrison with Blehard, Edwards and McAllister getting through the Saanich defence for goals. The lone Saanich tally was scored by Davidson a few minutes before the final whistle.

Johnson refereed.
The teams were as follows:
Garrison—Wallace, Roger, Kemp, Scanlon, Spiera, Quinn, Bradshaw, Bunkoff, Blehard, McAllister and Edwards.
Saanich—United—Restall, Wyatt, Cann, Stonier, Moir, Speller, Tooby, Burns, Davidson, Preston and Brown.

WILL USE TWO REFEREES IN MAJOR HOCKEY

Five Major and Five Assistants Will Officiate This Season in N.H.L.

Representatives of Clubs Have New Delayed Penalty Rule Explained to Them

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Representatives of five clubs of the National Hockey League met here yesterday with President Frank Calder to hear explanations of the new delayed penalty rule which is practically the only innovation the league has adopted for the coming season.

This rule in effect means that at no time will a team play with less than four men on the ice, except when injuries have reduced their strength to that point.

The anti-defence rule came in for some discussion, the consensus of opinion being that it needs some revision, but no action was taken. The high stick rule and that regarding handling the puck were also discussed.

ASSISTANT REFEREES President Calder notified the members present that it was the intention this season to have five major referees and five assistant referees, with the major referees having power to overrule his assistant if he deemed it necessary.

Goalies Show Up In Practices Of Ottawa Senators

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 30.—Featured by spectacular goal tending on the part of Alex Connell and Bill Beveridge, Ottawa Senators, went through a stiff workout at the Arena here yesterday evening. Beveridge, loaned to Detroit Cougars last season after making the leap from the amateur ranks, is giving the veteran Connell a hard run for the first string job.

"Huck" McGuire, left-wing amateur from Brockville, likely will be asked to complete another year in the O.H.A. before being signed to a pro contract.

Manager Dave Gill is undecided about where his Allan Shields will perform this season. The Senators are well fortified with defence men in the Smith boys, Art and Alex and Harold Starr.

HANSEN WILL MEET STRACK ON SATURDAY

Heavyweights Feature of Wrestling Card For Tillicum Gym Saturday Evening

Fred Mortensen Meets Billy Robins in Semi-windup; Another Preliminary

Charlie Hansen, Seattle matman, who through his victory over Tarro Miyake, one-time world's ju-jitsu champion, here last year, and through the medium of Ken Stuart's wrestling broadcasts from the Sound City, is a familiar name to all followers of the bone-twisting game in this city, will be seen in action Saturday evening against Charlie Strack, Oklahoman.

Strack has shown his wares here several times and is known as one of the huskiest men in the game. When he goes against Hansen in the main event on the card at the Tillicum gymnasium he will have an opportunity to show his craftiness against the Seattle veteran. The boys will weigh in at about 210 pounds.

In the semi-windup, Fred Mortensen, Portland, and Billy Robins, Chicago, will come to grips. Both are reported to be good boys. Robins, a recent arrival on the coast from Chicago, will be out to make a favorable impression on the local followers, while Mortensen, although less experienced in the game than the easterner, is reported to be good.

A preliminary event will also be included on the card.

Bending can't distort your blade... if it's a PROBAK

THE Probak shock-absorbing blade is built to prevent edge-distortion—to keep its shaving edges as straight, true and keen in the razor as in the package. It does this by means of two patented features—butterfly channeling and duo-tempered steel—which absorb all bending shock and strain.

The scientifically-shaped perforations in the Probak blade are carefully designed to disperse the bending pressure—to provide channels for its escape. Special steel in the middle of the blade absorbs what little strain is left. No distortion ever reaches the highly tempered shaving edges.

Buy a package of guaranteed Probaks today. Use two in your double-edge razor (old or new model). Shave with a butterfly touch. Probak glides over your face—wipes off every wiry hair. If you don't get quicker, cooler, smoother shaves—return the package and your dealer will refund every cent—$1 for 10, 50c for 5.

SMART WEDDING FOR CANADIAN GIRL IN LONDON

Eleven Attendants at Gladstone-Cambie Nuptials Yesterday at St. Margaret's

London, Oct. 30.—The beautiful church of St. Margaret's, Westminster, provided the setting for the ceremony which yesterday at 2.15 o'clock united in marriage Geraldine (Betty), eldest daughter of Mr. Charles Cambie, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and Mrs. Cambie, to Mr. Malcolm Ewart Gladstone, younger son of the late William Buckley Gladstone and Mrs. Gladstone of Holland Park Villas, London, and a grandnephew of the late Hon. W. E. Gladstone, at one time Prime Minister.

Rev. Canon W. H. Carnegie, the rector, assisted by Rev. E. A. Welch of Southchurch, Essex, at one time rector of St. James Cathedral, Toronto, Canada, officiated, and a fragrant setting of autumnal chrysanthemums and snow-white lilies formed a background for the impressive scene.

ELABORATE PROCESSION

The elaborate bridal procession was preceded by the full choir of the church and consisted of six attendants to the bride, Miss Yvonne Davidson, Miss Eve McMurich, Miss Betty Elkington, Miss Joan Stamer, Miss Joy Butterworth and Miss Peggy Cambie, sister of the bride. Scattering rose petals were four little flower girls, Irene and Felicity Peacock and Bridget and Ann Hancock, while the bride's train was carried by a small page, Master John Jeremy Tennyson D'Eyncourt. Designed from original sketches by Lady, the costumes were exquisite. The bride's gown of white satin and afternoon for Trail, B.C., where they will be the guests of Mr. G. F. Blaylock. After the ceremony yesterday, His Honor entertained the newly-appointed Cabinet to luncheon at Government House, when covers were laid at a table arranged with Venetian poppies. SIX BRIDESMAIDS

Gowned alike were the six bridesmaids, who chose autumn tints of apricot satin, with matching tulle overdresses, for their idare-designed dresses. Charming simple in line, the gowns had tiny frills on the skirt and at the shoulders while circ ribbon trimming and velvet coats matched the becoming shadow-brimmed hats. Each carried a bouquet of shaded carnations. The little flower girls were dressed in the same shade and style, but charming little bonnets were worn in place of hats. A peach-colored satin Romney suit was chosen for the tiny page, complete with chiffon blouse and frills. The six bridesmaids were wearing long, high-trimmed trousers being fastened with large pearl buttons.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Mayfair Hotel, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests, who included several Canadians living in London. The bride's mother chose for the event a beautiful gown of brown velvet with a matching coat trimmed with sable. Agents will be the scene of the honeymoon, while the bride and groom will live in London on their return home.

HUNDREDS OF BOOKS GIVEN AT SHOWER

Generous Response to Aged Women's Home Appeal Yesterday

Hundreds of volumes, the largest number ever received at one of these annual showers, rewarded the appeal of the committee of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual shower and tea, a large number of friends, seizing the occasion to visit the institution and leave tangible tokens of their interest in the shape of gifts of books.

Whittier, together with Miss Robb, the matron, and her staff, constituted the reception committee and welcomed the visitors, among whom was Mrs. Harriet Carne, aged ninety-nine years, a charter member of the board, who was instrumental in starting the Home many years ago.

This should interest a lot of wives!

"Goodness, I almost forgot that Dad is having some of his friends in tonight for a game of cards," thought Mother, "I must make them some tasty sandwiches."

She mixed some Clark's Potted Veal with chopped hard-boiled egg, and spread this on thin slices of bread, adding a dash of Clark's Tomato Ketchup for relish.

Then, for variety, she spread other slices of bread with Clark's Pâté de Viande, and sprinkled each with crisped celery hearts sliced very thin. She trimmed off all crusts.

"There," she murmured to herself, after rolling each slice, "I'll wrap them in a damp napkin and they'll be just right for tonight." (After those sandwiches you couldn't tell a loser from a winner.)

On every tin of Clark's Potted Meats you will find a seal—Canada approved—it assures you that the contents have passed Federal Government inspection. In addition you may buy any Clark product with the assurance that if you are not entirely satisfied with your purchase your grocer will refund your money without question.

...they must be good!

Formosa Mission Worker Tells Of Work on Island

A description of the people of Formosa, the island itself and the Christian work being carried on there, was given by Rev. Duncan M. McLeod, for twenty-three years a missionary in that land, before a crowded school-room in the First United Church yesterday evening. His talk was his farewell address before he returns to the island after a two-years' furlough in Canada. This evening the missionary will leave for the Orient aboard the R.M.S. Empress of Japan.

On his return he will again take up the work of the Presbyterian Church of England mission.

During his lecture yesterday evening Rev. Mr. McLeod informed the gathering that there were 30,000 Christians on the island, who attended 180 churches.

Dr. W. G. Wilson, minister of the First United Church, thanked the speaker for his address. Rev. O. M. Sanford occupied the chair.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY ELIZABETH

Mrs. Elford will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

REARRANGING NAP HOURS MAY CURE BABY'S WAKEFULNESS

Being an insomniac is a matter of pride with some adults. It bestows upon them a measure of distinction to say to the family in the morning, "I didn't close my eyes until 3 o'clock, and heard the clock strike every hour." But when the baby arouses both the echoes and all the adults a half dozen times a night, the story is a little different, as Mrs. P. F. C. will agree. "Can you tell me what makes my baby such a light sleeper?" she asks. "He is eight and one-half months old, healthy and good. He is and always has been on a four hour schedule prescribed by the doctor. I have never missed a month taking him to the doctor, and he is in perfect health. He does everything given him, loves his milk, has plenty of fresh air daily, and sleeps alone in a well-ventilated room."

ACTIVE BABY

But the least little noise wakes him, and in daytime he will not go back to sleep. At nights he wakes two or three times and cries. He sleeps in a light, sleeveless shirt, diaper and nightgown, and has two warm, light covers over him. His lack of sleep does not effect his disposition. He weighs twenty-one and one-half pounds and has been creeping and pulling up to things since the sixth month. Here is a sticker. There is apparently nothing that needs changing in either the environment or physical

BABY PRINCESS IS CHRISTENED

Water From River Jordan Baptizes Princess Margaret Rose

London, Oct. 30.—With water brought from the River Jordan, little Princess Margaret Rose, second daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, was christened in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace by the Archbishop of Canterbury to-day. While a bright autumn sun streamed through stained glass windows upon a golden flower-shaped font brought from Windsor Castle for the occasion, and upon lilies and roses which decorated the little altar, the Archbishop solemnly performed the christening ceremony. A boys' choir from the Royal chapel sang hymns selected by the Duchess. The little princess, who was ten weeks old to-day, wore a robe of cream satin and old Brussels lace, which was made for Queen Victoria and has been used for nearly every royal christening since, including that of the baby's sister, Princess Elizabeth.

Junior I.O.D.E. Plan Pumpkin Tea Saturday

A "pumpkin party" is the novel form of entertainment arranged by the little members of the Royal Bridge Chapter I.O.D.E. for their tea at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday afternoon from 3.15 till 6 o'clock. As the twenty-two members of this chapter are all young children, they are unable to raise funds through the usual medium of bridge teas and similar fund-raising, and they hope that their grown-up friends will patronize their effort on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Sydney Wood is the regent, and under her direction the kiddies have prepared a musical programme from talent among the membership. There will also be a guessing contest, and all the members will wear Halloween hats to lend color to the occasion.

Women Not So Faithful As Men Thinks Lawyer

London, Oct. 30.—"It may seem strange," Sir Eli Hume Williams, eminent divorce court lawyer, says in his autobiography, published to-day, "but I think women are less faithful than men." Other striking statements, based, he says, on long experience, include: "Once a woman who has loved one man, has fallen out of love with him and into love of another, there is no cruelty known to any created human being or animal to equal that with which she will treat the first man."

A new pleasant way to remove loose Dandruff

Listerine
shampoo usually gets results in 3 days—and cools itching scalp

NOW thousands are hailing the wonderful results obtained by full strength Listerine used in connection with the shampoo.

Ordinary loose dandruff is often removed in three days or less—sometimes in one treatment. Inflamed conditions of the scalp which cause itching and burning are relieved almost instantly. The entire scalp is made cleaner, healthier, and more vigorous after only a few applications. We have hundreds of unsolicited letters testifying to Listerine's success against dandruff.

If you have loose dandruff—if your scalp itches, feels uncomfortable or shows any evidence of inflammation, try Listerine and see how quickly you note improvement.

Dandruff is drying sebum forced out by over-active fat glands surrounding the hair roots. This over-activity, many dermatologists claim, is the result of infection.

Listerine used full strength dissolves and removes the sebum, and if infection is present attacks it. You know it is a safe though powerful germicide. Simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously with the fingertips, repeating the treatment until dandruff has disappeared. A little olive oil may be used if the scalp is excessively dry. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest time accurately recorded by science).

LOWER RAIL RATE ON GRAIN IS REFUSED

Board Divides on Application of Halifax Harbor Commission

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Three varying opinions, which have the effect of negating the application of the Halifax Harbor Commission for a freight rate adjustment on east-bound traffic over the Canadian National Railway were made public yesterday by the Board of Railway Commissioners. A straight negative decision was delivered by Commissioners Thomas Vlen and J. A. Stoneman; a suggestion of an alternate rate was advanced by Commissioner H. J. McLean and Calvin Lawrence, and an affirmative decision was rendered by Chief Commissioner H. A. McKeown and Commissioner T. C. Norris.

In effect, the judgment of the board is against the application because only two members returned affirmative decisions. The other four members gave negative judgments. Reports from appeal being launched against the decision. This would go to the governor-in-council and it is unlikely any action will be taken until the return of Premier R. B. Bennett from England.

MARITIME PORTS

"While the application is directed against the Canadian National Railway alone," says Chief Commissioner McKeown in his judgment, "the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has joined in submitting an answer and therein has in substance set out:

"(a) That the ports of St. John and Halifax are on an equal footing with what might be termed the competing United States Atlantic ports of Portland, Boston, New York, etc.

"(b) The same conditions and circumstances do attend the movement of export grain to St. John and Halifax on the one hand, and to Quebec on the other, Quebec being a summer port only. Whereas in the case of St. John and Halifax the grain moves during the winter season and the Canadian route is directly competitive with the American rail route. During the winter season the reserves of grain in the Georgian Bay ports in Canada and Buffalo for the United States; and the distance from the latter point to New York is less than one-half the distance from Georgian Bay to St. John, and about one-third of such distance to Halifax."

The only result of allowing the application would, in the opinion of the C.P.R., be a general lowering of rates to the disadvantage of the carriers and no advantage to the ports concerned.

HOLD INQUEST ON C. SPENCER

Body of Missing Chilcotin
Rancher Found Yesterday;
Wanted on Murder Charge

Canadian Press
Williams Lake, B.C., Oct. 30.—The body of Charles Spencer, sixty-year-old rancher of the Chilcotin country, was found in the Chilcotin River yesterday afternoon by Little Charlie, an Indian. Spencer had been the object of intense search since September 1, following the murder of Edward Smith, his ranch storekeeper, and the wounding of his ranch manager, Walter H. Stoddart.

The body was discovered in the river just below the scene of the shooting. It had become fast among some drift logs. Coroner E. H. Hange of Hangeville was immediately notified and it was expected he would hold an inquest at once.

The shooting of Smith and Stoddart was done at Deer Creek Ranch, one of Spencer's several large and valuable properties. It is thought Spencer became suddenly enraged. He seized a gun, shot Smith dead, and then turned it on Stoddart. Spencer then fled, taking the gun and a belt of shells with him. Meanwhile Stoddart, seriously wounded, got into the truck which the men had been loading. He drove three miles, but the truck overturned when he fainted. Three hours later he was discovered in a sinking condition and taken to a farmhouse for medical attention. Subsequently he was removed to the Williams Lake Hospital, where his left arm was amputated. Spencer was one of the best-known men in the Chilcotin country. He was a pioneer resident of British Columbia and was classed among the wealthiest of ranchers.

Sale Marks Close of Prominent Shoe Firm

Retirement of W. T. Thorne Is Announced; Mammoth Closing-out Clearance of High-grade Shoes Begins To-morrow; Stock Is Reduced Below Cost by H. G. Philbrook, Sales Conductor.

The most sensational sale of shoes in the history of Victoria will commence to-morrow morning, October 31, with the disposal of the entire stock of Thorne's Shoe Store, 1316 Douglas Street, at sacrifice prices, in the brief period of eight days.

This announcement follows close upon the heels of news that W. T. Thorne, pioneer shoe merchant of this city, will retire from business.

Mr. H. G. Philbrook, sales conductor, of Toronto, Ont., will have full charge of this gigantic clearance of highest quality shoes for men and women. Mr. Philbrook is allowed only eight days in which to effect a complete disposal of stock, and prices have been drastically slashed accordingly. The present valuation of the Thorne selection of high grade shoes is $25,000 and the entire stock, newly arrived at the store and purchased with no preliminary intention of a sale, will be offered at half the original figures involved.

APPOINTMENT OF GOVERNORS TO BE DEBATED

Dominions Greatly Interested in Committee Report Prepared for Conference

London, Oct. 30.—It was a day of subcommittee at the Imperial Conference yesterday.

considering the erection of an Empire radio broadcasting station, encountered both financial and technical difficulties. The cost of the central station, which would be built in England, was estimated at about $194,000 a year for the first five years. How the cost would be allocated has still to be determined.

Relaying stations would have to be constructed at a number of points to insure proper reception. The plan would be to broadcast regular radio programmes, including news bulletins, throughout the Empire. According to the skeletonized plan submitted, there would be four separate hours of broadcasting, and Canada, owing to the difference in time between the Dominion and Great Britain, would have devoted to it the early morning hours, so the programme would arrive before Canadian radio listeners had gone to bed.

The Sankey committee, headed by the Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, expected to have its draft report ready for the Imperial Conference to-day. The report, dealing largely with constitutional issues, covers three main grounds: The channels of communication to be adopted as between Britain and the Dominions; the advisability of extending in practice the machinery of Dominion autonomy as recognized in the Balfour report of 1926, and the establishment of an Empire tribunal for the hearing of disputes between different units of the Empire.

NAMING OF GOVERNORS

The appointment of Governors-General is understood to come under review. The British Government, it is learned, holds that advice on a proposed appointment given by a Dominion Government to the King should continue to pass through United Kingdom channels.

Dunlop looks forward to a sound, consistent business increase in its position as a major Canadian industry. This considered opinion, made following a year of generally adverse conditions, featured the annual convention of the British Columbia sales force of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company Limited, held in Vancouver last Saturday.

Under the direction of H. H. Lewis, sales manager for western Canada, the convention discussed its sales and advertising plans for the year to which the organization looks forward with great confidence.

The increased importance of quality in the modern market and under present-day conditions was stressed, and the convention was told that on this all-important point the Dunlop Company were on a firmer ground to-day than ever before.

"Purchasers," it was pointed out, "are exacting; price levels are low, and only the most perfect products can hope to secure lasting favor in to-day's markets. It would be too much to expect," it was stated at the convention, "that a set of world conditions which restricts the volume of trade generally would not in some measure affect the industry in which we are engaged, but the vitality which characterizes the Dunlop organization justifies the belief that we will continue to meet with the successes which generally come to organized effort."

Provinces Are Uncertain On Wheat Debts

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Prairie provinces stood uncertain to-day as to the cost of their decision nine months ago to back the Wheat Pool on grain prices. Premier John Bracken of Manitoba had estimated the three provinces' losses would exceed $10,000,000 unless values improve. But Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan said he believed the Manitoba Government leader was misquoted.

"I see no reason why a statement should be issued at the present time," the Saskatchewan Premier said, adding that when the government should feel it necessary to issue a statement they would do so. He added it would be impossible to know whether or not there would be a deficit until the unsold portion of the 1929 crop was disposed of. Premier Bracken had said that until that time the amount of the loss could not be foretold.

Premier Bracken's statement, made late yesterday, estimated Saskatchewan's portion of the indebtedness at $5 to 60 per cent. of the total for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, with the remainder allocated approximately evenly between the other two provinces.

Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta has made no comment beyond saying that there was no truth in a report from Winnipeg Saturday estimating prairie provinces' losses on the Pool deal at $10,000,000.

Why Vegetable Oils are Best

There is a soothing, penetrating quality about a vegetable oil soap lather that searches down into the tiniest pores and frees them of the day's accumulation without hurting the fabric of the skin. As you know, the skin is very sensitive, and must be very carefully handled. Palmolive Soap lather cleanses without irritation. It leaves the skin soft and smooth, and in wonderful condition for your beauty expert's treatment.

Dangers to Skin Beauty

Unless the skin is thoroughly cleansed twice a day, dirt, dust, cream and make-up gather in the pores of your face and soon become hard little accumulations which develop into blackheads and pimples. These unsightly blemishes are a sign of Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color is the natural color of palm and olive oils. The delicate natural odor of these vegetable oils makes the addition of heavy perfume unnecessary.

Here is the recommended treatment: massage a smooth lather of Palmolive Soap gently into the skin. Rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Now... and not before... you are ready for make-up.

Hot Paraffin Baths Aid Chilblain
Sufferers

By DR. MORRIS FISHBIE

When people whose circulation in the skin is poor are exposed to cold, the exposure sometimes causes injuries that are exceedingly painful.Of this type is the condition known as chilblain, which involves a redness and swelling of the hands and feet, particularly in poorly nourished children who have been exposed to the dampness.The area in which chilblain occurs is bluish-red, the color disappearing on pressure. The area usually feels cool, but sometimes is clammy because of excessive perspiration. Chilblain naturally is not seen in the summer but only in the winter.Of the greatest importance in the treatment of chilblain are two methods which have been developed in recent years. One of these involves heating of the area by the use of a bath of melted paraffin wax. It is usually best first to cleanse the parts with hot water and massage them gently with some simple ointment.People with a tendency to chilblains should wear woolen socks and perhaps even thick shoes or boots in cold weather. The feet or hands may be warmed by the use of an electric pad, a heat lamp, or by immersion in abath of melted paraffin wax with a temperature of about 120 degrees.By remaining in this paraffin bath, the pain disappears and the circulation in the tissues is greatly improved through the retention of the heat. One of the reasons for the use of melted paraffin wax instead of hot water is the fact that water of a temperature of 110 degrees is about as high as the patient can stand, whereas the paraffin wax bath may be maintained at a temperature of 120 degrees for at least twenty minutes without complaint from the patient concerning the heat.Chilblains seem to be benefited, moreover, by the use of ultra-violet rays. The application of the rays usually bring about improvement in the condition of the circulation and apparently is beneficial to the skin in the area concerned.The basic question involved in all of these cases is, of course, the condition of the health of the patient which causes him to develop the chilblains.
Hence it is important to improve the circulation in the tissues by regular exercise and massage, and to improve the general health by proper amounts of the necessary foods and proper amounts of sleep and rest.

RELIEF WORK COST HERE TO BE $100,000

City to Get $42,000 Contribution From Government Unemployed Fund

Continue Work With Cordwood Cutting Camp For Single Men

Upon his return to the city today from the mainland, one of the first problems facing Mayor A. H. Cameron was that of unemployment relief, which continues to be one of the main tasks facing civic administrators.

A meeting of the unemployment committee was held this morning in the Mayor's office to discuss further details for the cordwood cutting camp at Waugh Creek, and to consider the attitude of the unemployed.

No announcement was made after the meeting beyond the fact that the city's relief programme was going ahead.

From the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon came the announcement that the Government had agreed to contribute $42,000 to the relief fund, the agreement between the city and Province for this amount having been signed. Up to this time the city had not stated the extent of its programme.

FOR WAGES

As the $42,000 is primarily for the payment of wages, it is supposed the city's expenditure, if the full amount of the government grant is used, will be probably half as large again, so that the city's programme will probably extend to about $100,000.

This money will be spent on road surfacing, drains, sewer work and improvement of park roads, it is understood. The cordwood camp is a separate proposition entirely and is designed to be practically self-supporting.

FACTS ABOUT UNDERWATER CABLES TOLD

Troubles of Repair Crews and Cost of Work Related By Capt. C. N. C. Fleming

Rotarians Hear of Activities of Restorer When Communication Lines Break

A glimpse into the trials and tribulations of the men who lay submarine cables and keep them in order, was given members of the Rotary Club by Capt. C. N. C. Fleming of the cable ship Restorer, at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Stories of monotonous searching for breaks in submarine communication lines of men working with sheets of green water breaking above them and general facts about cable laying and repairing were told.

Cable ship construction varied greatly from that of the ordinary liner. Capt. Fleming noted, saying that the cable tanks were built up from the bottom of the ship. The cables, which were five feet in diameter, were laid between 2,000 and 3,000 miles of cable.

After one end of the cable had been secured on shore by winches, the boat steamed away and paid out the cable. It was inspected as it was reeled off and the ship was stopped for the splicing of one cable to another when one length had reached its end, he said.

In case of break tests were conducted from the shore, where the testers were able to advise the ship of the approximate location of the break.

When the ship neared the break it dragged for the cable with a special grapple apparatus. Capt. Fleming continued.

Often the cable was found to be old and weak and broke on being hauled up. Each end of the break was buoyed while splicing operations proceeded.

At times the cable had to be towed from the bottom, it could not be fished from one ledge to another, the speaker stated.

The size of cables varied according to location. A Newfoundland three-inch sheath type was used. Attempts had been made to use steel casings, but they proved unsatisfactory, the speaker said.

On one occasion the ship had had to tow an iceberg away from the cable. Another time the crew had been called to repair a cable at Cape Cod, where a picnic party had found it on the beach and it like a hook for a teakettle above a beach fire.

CABLES EXPENSIVE

Cables cost from $1,200 to $5,000 a mile, he said. Speaking of expenses, he informed the gathering that the Restorer, tied up to the wharf, cost $120,000 a year to maintain. If the ship had to leave port the cost would be four or five times as much, Capt. Fleming added.

Smooth weather was essential to repair work because when grappling for a cable in rough seas, it almost invariably broke and required additional material for its repair.

When caught in rough weather, Capt. Fleming had had men working with seas four and five feet higher than the ship, he said.

Occasionally, when looking for breaks, some of the best services came within fifty or 100 yards of the breaks.

COSTLY EQUIPMENT

Between fifty and sixty miles of rope were carried by the Restorer. Complete equipment was valued at about $150,000. That, he added, was one reason why cablegrams were expensive.

On different occasions he had laid cables in water rarely five miles deep, Capt. Fleming said.

In the North Atlantic the majority of breaks were caused by trawlers, whose nets frequently caught the cable. The submarine communication lines.

Last year the big Atlantic earthquake broke twelve of twenty-two on all cables in the world.

The cable ship Restorer, which was not repaired on the Gulf Stream, where tides and fogs caused the ships great difficulty and often made splicing and dragging impossible.

In conclusion, he invited the club to inspect the ship and its equipment.

REHEARSAL OF PHONE CHANGE IN PROGRESS

Telephone Officials and Experts Arrive to Witness Switch to Dials

Preparation by the British Columbia Telephone Company for changing the telephone system at midnight on Saturday night to the dial method of operation is drawing to a close. Telephone officials from Vancouver, with experts in various branches of the industry, are arriving in the city to watch the progress of events from now until the cut-over hour.

In the central exchange building on Blanshard Street the telephone men are testing and retesting the new automatic equipment. Each piece of the apparatus is being put through its paces to be sure it will function properly at the time of the cut-over.

"Dress rehearsals" are being carried out by the plant department, so that the men who are actually to cut the old system to the new will take their places and perform their work on Saturday night as efficiently as possible.

GIRLS ARE READY

The girls who are to operate the dial service "A" board, a switchboard through which various kinds of calls will be handled under the new system, have been sitting at the new board, handling calls played by a number of other girls who have been acting as the part of subscribers in this way. The girls are being well schooled in their work before they commence to handle calls from the public.

The thirty young ladies who have been allotted the task of calling up all telephone subscribers in Victoria for the purpose of making sure that full dial instructions have been given and a copy of the new directory received, are well advanced with their work. They all day long they do nothing but place calls at a special table extending the length of a room, with fifteen girls on each side, and each divided from the other by a partition to prevent the voice of one interfering with the other. All day long they do nothing but place calls to the numbers on the cards before them and make a record of the replies.

The new telephone directory, which contains all the new Victoria telephone numbers, has now been distributed. It is particularly important that every subscriber has a copy of this book, as all numbers will be changed on Saturday night at midnight.

At a special table extending the length of a room at 620 Fort Street, telephone office continue to drop in for dial instruction from the young ladies on duty there. This office is now open each evening until 9 o'clock.

WOODWIND QUINETTE ACCLAIMED

Visiting Artists Delight Enthusiastic Audiences Yesterday Afternoon and Evening

By G. J. D.

The two concerts given yesterday by the American woodwind quintette, proved rare and enjoyable musical treats in the afternoon, the quintette was engaged at the High School under the auspices of this school's students' council, and the evening performance, presented before nearly three hundred children and their teachers, left no doubt that such a demonstration of music appreciation, and the enthusiasm and keenness throughout the audience, was a most successful and interesting in the demonstrations, each player describing his instrument before rendering his solos.

DEMONSTRATIONS MADE

These demonstrations were the French horn and flute in solo and "Evening Star" (Tannhauser), and the "Hunting Chorus" from "Der Freischütz" for the horn, and Popp's "Serenade" for the flute, the quartet for four numbers for clarinet, "Flower" (Godard), oboe, "Song of India" (Rimsky-Korsakoff), English horn, the Largo from "New World Symphony" (Dvorak), and bassoon, "Down the Cellar" (folk song).

The number for the "Hen, the Duck and the Donkey" (Huguenin), was much enjoyed by the young people, evidently distinguishing which instrument portrayed the hen (oboe), the duck (clarinet), and the donkey, whose bray on the bassoon always elicited mirthful laughter. The "Music Box" for flute, oboe and clarinet by Ladow, and the folk song, "Jolly Peter" also created amusing interest.

EVENING PROGRAMME

In the evening at the Shrine Auditorium, more a somewhat small but intensely enthusiastic audience, the players again created a lasting impression. In all they did there was much technical skill, refinement, power of interpretation and finish. Each member is a master of his instrument, distinguished by superb tone qualities. Beautiful was the horn tone, pathetic, solemn and romantic in the Andante movement from Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Quintette in B Flat," Op. 55, and the pianist, a member of the party, in his accompaniments and ensemble parts, showed himself a musician of marked pianistic attainments.

The opening number, Mozart's "Divertimento in F Major," a type of music popular during the time of this composer, in its graceful and delightful airy style, and the Andante with variations, by Beethoven, in its fugal form for the instruments, were two of the ensemble's outstanding numbers. Perfectly enjoyable also was the group of four numbers, among which were the dainty "Gavotte Classique" (de Buefy), the characteristic and finely played "The Musical Box" by the flute (a charming player), oboe and clarinet, and the exquisite "Pastoral Dance" from Godard's "Nell Gwyn Suite," in which the reedy, hollow and ghostly tones of the clarinet were splendidly produced. Insistent demands following this group brought the ensemble

WORKER INJURED UNLOADING POLES AT NANAIMO LAKES

Nanaimo, Oct. 30.—Robert Dick of Brechin, had his best service injured yesterday while working at the Nanaimo Lumber Company's camp at Nanaimo Lakes.

Dick jumped off the car loaded with poles, which he was engaged in unloading, when one of the forty-foot poles rolled after him, striking him in the back. He was rushed to Nanaimo Hospital in an open car.

An X-ray picture has been taken to ascertain the extent of the injury.

Again to the platform, the ensemble favoring with the folk song "Jolly Peter."

ULTRA-MODERN MUSIC

The concluding sonata in B flat by Milhand (would this not be better suited by the title of a "suite") was an example of ultra-modern music, which through extremely clever writing, each instrument pursuing his own way rather than regarding his fellow sonata was written immediately after the war.

FINE SOLOIST

The soloist of the evening was the oboist, a very fine player, and it is doubtful if there has ever been heard here such refined tone as by this talented artist. With rare expressive results in the instrument's artless innocence, tenderness and mystery, the "Serenade to Mabel" (Edward Godard), was a most beautiful piece. Mr. Tustin met with most hearty applause, and his augmented number, Beethoven's "Minuet in G," was charming. The members of the quintette are: G. G. Merigold; oboe, W. Tustin; clarinet, E. Phillips; bassoon, C. Swan; horn, B. Ralph; and piano, J. Sundsten.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE $45,000 Fire Suit Halts For Two Weeks

Hearing of the suit of the residents of Shawnigan Lake for $45,000 damages against the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, which, according to their claim to court they hold responsible for the fire which destroyed the whole settlement at the station, was halted today to-day to be resumed in a couple of weeks when experts for the C.P.R. will present the result of their investigations as to loss damage.

Colonel Whittaker was on the stand all this morning. He testified that he owned the store building, for which he had paid $10,000 four years ago and which he had rented at $100 a month. J. E. McMullin, counsel for the railway, attacked the $16,485 total amount of Whittaker's claim on the ground that he had filed not only for what he had paid for the property but had added to it rent and the cost of improvements which had been included in the original $10,000 price.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED IN CHINESE CASE

Trial on Assault Court Ended Before Magistrate George Jay This Morning

Ah Fook, Accused, Tells of Relations With Daughter of Injured Woman

Judgment was reserved by Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning in the case of Ah Fook, otherwise Der Fook, charged with assaulting Mrs. Ng Shee, and occasioning her actual bodily harm.

R. C. Lowe appeared for the prosecution, and Frank Higgins, K.C., for the defense in the case, which took up three full sessions of the court, and created intense interest among Chinese residents here.

Following argument of counsel after evidence was concluded this morning the magistrate said he would give his decision next Wednesday.

In summing up the defense Mr. Higgins claimed there was practically no evidence beyond that of the woman, Mrs. Shee, to show that the accused was on the scene at the time of the assault. The woman's statement had been contradicted by her daughter, who was called by the court.

Mr. Lowe attacked the credibility of the girl's evidence on the grounds that she was protecting the accused. The daughter could not have inflicted all the wounds on the woman, he declared.

Cross-examination of the accused took up the major part of the court session this morning. Ah Fook was closely questioned by Mr. Lowe on his relations with the girl, Doris Lee, who yesterday professed her love for him. Fook, who said he was twenty-seven years old, married, and with a family of six children. He declared he had been married in Victoria under old Chinese laws.

With regard to his intimacy with the girl, he said he liked her as a friend.

"You knew she was in love with you?" asked Mr. Lowe.

"From her actions I think she loves me, but what her real heart is I don't know," witness replied.

"You didn't care what her real heart was?" asked counsel.

"That's difficult to say. If she likes me I am bound to like her. If she doesn't, how can I like her?" witness said.

EXCHANGED NOTES

Fook admitted exchange of notes with Doris Lee on occasions, and identified one of the letters, alleged to have been written by her, as in his writing. As far as he knew the girl was truthful, he said.

Witness testified that prior to the assault on September 24, he and the girl had agreed to stop seeing each other so much.

Mr. Lowe—Would you have married her as your second wife if you had the money?

Witness—If I had the money I could have done.

Mr. Lowe—But would you?

Witness—I had no money, how could I?

TRIP TO VANCOUVER

Mr. Lowe then questioned the accused regarding his trip to Vancouver with Doris Lee. Witness said he had signed the register as Sam Jong, a name he sometimes used.

Mr. Lowe—Did you sign as man and wife?

Witness—I can't remember.

Mr. Lowe—Did you occupy the same room as the girl?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Lowe—Did you tell anyone she was your wife?

Witness—No.

The pair had stayed two days in Vancouver, the accused said. As far as he knew the girl had asked her mother's permission to go. He himself had not told his wife.

Prosecution counsel then switched his examination to the statements made by Fook regarding his movements on the night of September 24. Accused said he had kept no record of calls received at his taxi office that night. He had been worried about household affairs and financial matters for the last two months, and had neglected to keep his books up to date.

Accused said he came to the police station early on the morning of September 25, after hearing that the girl had been taken to the police station early on the morning of September 25 to inquire regarding the occurrence.

FOUR THOUSAND MORE WORKLESS

Decreases in Some Provinces in October With Increases in Others

British Columbia Had 1,693 More Unemployed as Month Opened

Based on reports of 755 firms in British Columbia with a payroll of fifteen employees or more, employment in British Columbia at the beginning of this month showed a further curtailment, mainly in manufacturing, construction and services, according to figures received by the Department of Labor.

Logging and a few other trades reported increased activities. The total of employees of all the firms reporting dropped from 69,903 at September 1 to 68,210 at October 1.

For the whole of Canada there was a further but smaller decline in employment at the beginning of October, roughly 4,000 being added to the unemployed of the Dominion. The most pronounced curtailment since the preceding month was in construction, which was seasonal in character, but the declines were less extensive than at October 1 in preceding years, due to the unemployment relief programme.

Unemployment increases were reported in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and British Columbia, but slight increases in employment were recorded in Ontario and the prairie provinces at the beginning of this month.

DOCTORS SURE YEARLY TESTS HALT CANCER

Compulsory Examinations
Would Reduce Mortality,
Health Commission Assured

Doctors Suggest Per Capita
Honorarium Replace Fees
From Sick

Cancer has increased thirty per cent in the last two years in British Columbia, and is now leading tuberculosis as a cause of death, the Royal Commission of State Health Insurance and Maternity Benefits was informed yesterday afternoon by the cancer research committee of the British Columbia Medical Association.

The commission was informed that deaths due to cancer were increasing in the Province, partly as a result of the influx of people between the ages of thirty and sixty-seven, termed the cancer age. Otherwise the average life in this Province was longer than in most other provinces. Recent studies of Victoria mortality had shown a cancer ratio of 175.4 per 100,000, while Vancouver figures were 146.1 per 100,000.

ANNUAL EXAMINATIONS

The medical delegation included Dr. C. W. Frowd, chairman of the cancer study group; Dr. J. W. McIntosh, Medical Health Officer of Vancouver, and P. E. Court. They recommended that any legislation instituting health insurance should include provision for annual physical examination of all people, and creation of state institutions at Victoria and Vancouver where radium treatment could be given.

The delegation stressed the fact that cancer was curable when treated in its early stages, and that periodical examinations would reveal the existence of the disease in time to permit curative treatment.

PAY FOR HEALTH

A basic change in the relation between the public and the medical profession would be advisable under state health insurance, the delegation considered. It was suggested that payment for medical attention should be on a per capita basis of continued well-being and health, superseding the present system of payment of fees for treatment of ailments already incurred and often insurable. Such a change, combined with compulsory medical examinations would eliminate much preventable disease and ill-health, the delegation advised.

BLACK AND WHITE RULES THE MODE

Sombre Tones Dominate Manhattan Openings; Lively
Colors in Country

By BETSY SCHUYLER

New York, Oct. 30. — There is so much black or white, or black and white, in the big city these days that it is a real pleasure to go to the country and see some lively colors.

At the recent Eugin Sleepchase at Bedford Hills, N.Y., and the Monmouth County Hunt, lively colors and fancy fabrics made the scenery gay. Among the gayest was Mrs. Langhorn Gibson, on whose estate the former meet was held. For the races, she wore an arresting jockey shirt of striped satin, a regulation jockey cap and breeches.

Natalie Convent sponsored a jacket suit and trurban of a new autumn-colored tweed flecked with color in a brown and black design that was ultra smart. Dorothea Morrell wore a gay green checked tweed with a smart little matching beret with winged ribbon trim.

GRAY POPULAR TOO

At the Red Bank meet there was a noticeable amount of white trimming dark clothes. Matilda Ellsworth wore one of the smart outfits, a poverty tweed with white pique trim. Attending the hunt with her was Mary C. Whitney, whose trim ankles were dressed for chilly air with short socks atop her silk hose and Prince of Wales laced oxfords.

The vogue for gray, in the soft bluish tones, extends to the great outdoors. Little Virginia Pelgenapan wears a smart blue gray coat, jodhpurs and hat, and a gray silk shirt and figured tie.

The most luxurious black-white evening costumes have graced several recent theatrical openings. At Jane Cow's "Twelfth Night" the Gene Tunneys entertained guests at a box party and every woman in the party wore black. Mrs. Tunney's gown was a formally cut velvet, with a three-quarters coat topping it collared in white fox.

At the opening of Pierre's, which drew a brilliant social gathering, innumerable women wore glamorous black gowns. Mrs. Leonard Cushing's black velvet wrap, atop a black gown, had an exquisite standing collar and bell sleeves of ermine.

BACK FROM PARIS

Lunching at the Colony the other noon, Mrs. Franklin L. Hutton wore a little black velvet peplum suit with the softest of white chiffon blouses that was stunning. Her velvet turban had a bow on one side and a small but utterly ravishing diamond clip on the other. The same day I passed Mrs. Bullseye L. Wells walking down Park Avenue in a distinctive tortoise dress of ostrich feather woven with a soft cow neck with a touch of real lace in front.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., was once more returning from France gowned handsomely in black. When she landed on the Bremen, she wore all black, except her hosiery and gloves, which were a deep beige. Lady Mendil, arriving on the Ile de France, on the other hand, is wearing the new dark toned hosiery that is an off-black, looks stunning with black suede footwear and is what Paris is mad about.

Mrs. Jock Whitney has several stunning figured gowns in her trousseau. She wore a particularly enchanting one to the opening of "Three's A Crowd," a figured faille taffeta in delicate pastel tones, made in quaint basque fashion. She has a dinner gown of red and gold that is enchanting with her chestnut hair and the exotic long gold earrings she wears.

AFTER HEINEN'S "AIR YACHT" WAS WRECKED BY BLAST

Here is what was left of Capt. Anton Heinen's "air yacht" blimp after the explosion of a compressed air tank had wrecked it at its mooring mast at Toms River, N.J. Three mechanics were injured when the blast occurred, hurling engine parts and sections of the gondola forty feet to the ground. There was a threat of fire, but the flame burned itself out before reaching the hydrogen-filled lift bags. The latter were deflated and Captain Heinen, former German dirigible expert, said the craft would be rebuilt.

of Italy, created much interest in aviation and originated several private sales of planes. The winning plane, a Breda, made an average speed of 104 miles an hour over the 2,170 miles course.

What you eat for breakfast determines what you do before noon

YOU will start the day wrong if your breakfast is poor, nutritionists say. Statistics show that into the four hours that follow the first meal, 70 per cent. of the entire day's work is crowded. Breakfast is important... it should furnish sufficient energy to last the morning through.

Quaker Oats is the breakfast unsurpassed for lasting food energy. The famous Quaker process retains every vital part of the oat—proteins for growth, carbohydrates for energy, abundant body building minerals and the important vitamins. Roughage, too, so that laxatives are less needful.

And what delicious flavor you find in Quaker Oats! Richer... more zesty... more satisfying than ordinary oats. This is because Quaker bakes choice whole oats to a delicious nut-sweet tenderness. This pre-cooking not only gives the wonderful Quaker flavor, but makes long home cooking unnecessary. Quaker Oats is the fastest cooking of all hot breakfasts, ready 2½ minutes after the water boils.

Your grocer has the large household package. Quaker Oats are never sold in bulk. All Quaker packages contain coupons with which you can get useful articles for personal and household use.

CHINA
In Every Package Marked "Chinaaware"
A surprise in every Quaker Oats package marked "Chinaaware"—a piece of attractively patterned genuine English china. As pretty as you could buy. Beautifully colored... distinctively shaped and bordered.

RIO AWAITS ARRIVAL OF NEW PRESIDENT

Dr. G. Vargas Expected There To-day or To-morrow; Greeted at Sao Paulo

Canadian Press
Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 30.—Dr. Getulio Vargas, hero of the Brazilian Revolution, was expected to-day by the metropolitan sections which almost opposed its attempts to unseat the administration of President Washington Luis.

Arriving late yesterday at Sao Paulo from the former battlefield along the Parana-Sao Paulo border, Dr. Vargas, who is President-Elect of the Brazilian Union, avoided crowds which had gathered to greet him and hurried to conferences with other insurgent leaders. The crowds, cheered all but a glimpse of the new strong man of Brazil, rang the streets cheering him.

TO TAKE OATH AT ONCE
A similar reception is expected when Dr. Vargas arrives here, possibly to-day, although probably not for a day or two later. It was believed to-day he would be named President immediately to fill out the unexpired term of Dr. Washington Luis, who is still confined, a nominal prisoner, in the officers' quarters of Fort Alcazar Copacabana.

Enthusiasm of the cities for Dr. Vargas and other revolutionary leaders is regarded as the most phenomenal since in some of its phases at least the successful insurgent movement represented a clash of urban and rural interests, with the cattle-raising state of Rio Grande do Sul leading in the movement.

$1,000,000 AN HOUR MADE BY SULLY IN COTTON COUP
Time was when the cotton crop across the line wrestled with wheat in speculative arenas for foremost place and interest. Then Daniel J. Sully held and justified the title of Cotton King. From the early autumn of 1903 until his retirement and failure in March, 1904, Mr. Sully (who died in Los Angeles recently) bore his unchallenged title because of the magnitude of his dealings on the New York Cotton Exchange.

In that period, when American cotton dominated the world to a much greater extent than to-day, one of Mr. Sully's coups netted him $2,000,000 in just about the same number of minutes. Then he was a comparative junior in dealing in cotton, going to New York from Providence, his home town. He held a fixed unshakable belief that the 1903-1904 crop would be much below the usual yield. He figured a shortage of over 1,000,000 bales. He bought cotton with every cent he could lay his hands on. The older heads of the exchange were unconvinced because of Mr. Sully's confidence in the million and more shortage of crop. Sully's counter move was to buy from these doubters whenever their confidence in a normal crop became vocal.

His campaign day by day became more effective; his contracts in cotton became the sensation of the market. Then along came the December government crop report for 1903. It showed that Mr. Sully's forecast of yield was only incorrect because the official report was less than his estimate by some 20,000 bales.

Just before the official figures were announced Mr. Sully took a post on the floor of the exchange. He was smiling, debonair, the picture of confidence. The opposing "shorts" could not summon the same complacency. When the news of the shortage broke there followed a scene never duplicated before or since in the history of cotton transactions on a large scale.

Sully was the victor. He bid up the market—as he was fully prepared for the favorable news—so that his profits to the tune of a couple of millions kept pace with the next 120 seconds ticked off by the clock. Up and up the prices went, 140 points within the same period.

In the career that followed Mr. Sully's knowledge of his specialty in the market was heightened by his exceptional capacity in dramatizing his personality in any campaign undertaken. This was a great factor in his rise to his aid a following which wanted to be shown that the Cotton King was not supreme in putting over about anything he conceived to be profitable in cotton deals.

For a brief time, after his initial killing, he dominated and determined the world price of the important staple. So consistently were his drives centered on upward movements that Mr. Sully became known as the Savior of the South.

In March, 1904, Mr. Sully thought to retire. He was a multi-millionaire. But as prices were sagging his Southern friends implored his good offices. He bought, to his ultimate loss, 300,000 bales, and before March ended he was insolvent, unable to meet his payments. When he composed liabilities of $3,000,000 at 50 cents on the dollar he lost his seat in the exchange. But he never lost his distinctive title so briefly held.

He was sixty-nine at the time of his death. One of Mr. Sully's daughters was the first wife of Douglas Fairbanks.

NEW DIRECTORS FOR ABANA MINES

Montreal, Oct. 30.—A partially new board of directors was elected at the conclusion Tuesday of the annual meeting of the shareholders of Abana Mines Limited. Some 200 shareholders attended the meeting, representing 2,300,000 shares.

The new board consists of F. A. Kent, F. M. Connell, C. B. Howard, C. E. Trudeau, Ernest Dussault, J. H. C. Wait and J. M. Pritchard.

Severe criticism of the former board for its negotiations with Mining Corporation which had already involved the company in a debt of $111,620 was directed at F. A. Kent, chairman of the board, who was led by Benjamin Robinson of Montreal. Mr. Kent replied that the company was faced with a crisis when the deal was carried through and there was not time to await a general ratification of the shareholders.

ISLAND COAL IS GOOD COAL

YOUR TON OF ISLAND COAL IS THE MINER'S BREAD & CHEESE

EVERY ton of Island Coal taken from the earth insures one day's maintenance for a miner and his family. To you it's probably just "coal"... an "unavoidable expense". What does it matter where it comes from, so long as it warms the house?

But wait a minute! There's more in this than meets the eye.

Don't let's forget that on Vancouver Island is one of British Columbia's major industries... coal mining. Every dollar we send out of the community for non-Island coals... or for fuels other than coal... is a dollar less in the pockets of our own people.

You can do your bit toward the relief of unemployment by buying Island Coal. Thus you will be making not only a practical investment in Home Industry, but you will be making a definite improvement in the economical operation of your own household.

Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox Coals show a better average of B.T.U.'s (heat units) than other coals sold locally. Island Coals are uniformly good coals. They burn freely, easily, have an exceptionally low moisture content and if governed by automatic control, yield more heat for every purpose.

Choose a reliable dealer from this list. He can show you how it is to your advantage to buy Island Coal. And remember, with your order on file, he is saving your money and making it possible for at least one miner's family to forget for a day the menace of unemployment.

These are common sense facts... of vital importance to all who live on Vancouver Island or in Greater Vancouver.

SAANICH WILL NOT PAY CITY

The Saanich School Board will not pay the Victoria School Board $1,272 claimed as tuition fees for fourteen students, who last year were given second year tuition at the Victoria High School without the authority of Saanich. The board yesterday evening filed a letter from the Victoria board which gave notice that failure to pay the account by October 23 would be followed by efforts to collect through the courts.

The dispute arose when the High School admitted, for second year tuition, fourteen students above seven years of age, who had required supplemental tests after the annual examinations. The Saanich board found the students had not complied

AT THE THEATRES

GARY COOPER HAS LEADING ROLE IN NEW CAPITOL FILM

Paramount's research department, in preparing for Gary Cooper's latest picture, "A Man From Wyoming," which opened this afternoon for a three-day engagement at the Capitol Theatre, discovered much interesting and hitherto little-known information about the American frontier troops, including the fact that these troops were increased a hundredfold during the war and the ratio of death casualties in battle among officers to similar casualties among enlisted men was higher with the engineers than with the infantry, artillery or cavalry.

There was a division of engineers with each division of soldiers. In case of an advance, the engineers went forward with the division, bridging streams, repairing roads, consolidating the captured enemy positions by reversing their face and repairing shell damage.

In the case of retreat they formed part of the rear guard, demolishing roads and bridges or erecting obstacles to delay the enemy pursuit.

"Cuckoos" will be on Coliseum screen next week.

The "Cuckoos," opening Saturday at the Coliseum Theatre, offers a new theme in talking pictures of the musical comedy type. The comedy is the keynote and is featured above singing and dancing.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, famous funmakers of "Rio Rita," are headlined. Jobyna Howland, six-foot comedienne of Broadway fame, was brought from New York especially for the picture. Mitchell Lewis, as a gypsy chief, intelligently drama into the plot with his diabolical plans which are foiled by the antics of Wheeler and Woolsey.

Director Paul Sloane had many beautiful sets built. Radio Pictures' dancing chorus gracefully proceeds through intricate ensembles. Dorothy Lee executes clever specialty dances and Mary Padula sings colorful gypsy songs. Throughout all, however, comedy predominates.

"HELL'S ISLAND," WITH FINE CAST,
AT THE PLAYHOUSE

"Hell's Island," the Columbia film, has been creating quite a sensation at the Playhouse Theatre. It will remain here for the balance of the week. Jack Holt and Ralph Graves, screen "buddy" team which achieved such success in "Submarine" and "Flight," interpret similar roles in this production. Dorothy Sebastian, attractive and talented player, is the feminine lead. Other in the cast are Harry Allen, Richard Cramer and Lionel Belmore.

MORAN AND MACK
AT THE COLUMBIA
IN COMIC PICTURE

Charles E. Mack, leader of the famous blackface team of Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, is an actor in a story he wrote himself. Several years ago Mack wrote the novel, "The Two Black Crows in the A.E.F." This story was filmed by Lloyd Corrigan and provided with added dialogue by Walter Weems to make the production, "Anybody's War," at the Columbia Theatre. Mack and his partner, Moran, appear in blackface throughout the picture as Amos and Willie Crow, Tennessee dinkies who are whisked away into the World War and encounter a multitude of mirth-provoking adventures.

NEW ELECTORAL LAW FOR CUBA

Havana, Oct. 30.—President Machado promised Cubans in a manifesto issued yesterday that new laws insuring the suppression of free will would be enacted following the congressional elections, which will be held Saturday.

"Immediately after the elections," the President stated, "new laws will be enacted to ensure for all time the expression of the free will of the people, following the dictates of the constitution."

At the same time the government announced, following a cabinet meeting, that a budget reduction of $10,000,000 would be made soon after the election. Salaries of employees earning more than $100 a month will be slashed. It is stated, luxury items will be cut and expenditure on secret service work will be reduced as far as possible.

ESTATE INCOME TAX RULING

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Commissioner W. A. Smith of the Toronto Court of Revision delivered an important judgment yesterday when he decided the incomes of estates distributed by executors are liable for income tax.

The National Trust and other trust companies argued the assessment department had no right to impose a tax on the executors which was payable by the beneficiaries, describing it as an indirect tax which the municipality had no right to levy.

The Assessment Department took the position it was a direct tax on income of the estate. At least $500,000 of assessment is affected by the decision, which will likely be reviewed by the county judge.

DOMINION PICTURE OF JUNGLE LIFE IS AMAZING AUDIENCES

"Africa Speaks," new Columbia feature playing at the Dominion Theatre all this week, has proved to be the most startling record of jungle adventure ever to be shown on the moving picture screen. It stands first by simple virtue of the extraordinary sound effects that bring the roaring wild so thrillingly to the theatre.

If the breath-taking escapes and heart-stopping incidents of the picture are not sufficiently fascinating, what can be said of the roars, cries, screams and general cacophony of the Congo that strikes terror to the civilized hearing? Pygmies, duck-billed women, bushmen, giant lions in action—all and more are here in a picture that no thrill-seekers should miss.

RUSSIAN ORCHESTRA
FEATURE OF STORY
HERE AT COLISEUM

Among the most attractive items of "London Calling," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, are Donald Calthrop's humorous attempts to interpret Shakespeare in his own way, and the series of recurring scenes in which the patient wireless enthusiast wrestles with his set. The director has aimed at and achieved some delightful photographic effects—namely in the scenes of the Russian Balalaika Choral Orchestra, and in some of the dancing.

HEALTH BROKE
ACTIVE SERVICE

Veteran of South Africa and World Wars Tells of Benefits From New Sargon

"I served the Empire during the South African war and again for four and a half years in the World War, coming through it all without a scratch," declared Joseph Edwards recently, 4814 Main Street, Vancouver, who runs a general store, and is a well-known member of the fraternal orders, the Foresters, Masons and Bu-fales.

"But after I got out of active service, my health began to break and I developed a bad case of stomach trouble that made everything I ate sour and form gas. It wasn't a question of just suffering now and then; my stomach burned like it was on fire all the time and the only relief I could get was to go without eating all day. This made it mighty hard to 'carry on.' I'd get so weak, and I was 'between the devil and the deep blue sea,' as the old saying goes. I'd wake up off and on all night, with cramps in my legs and fingers, and when I did sleep I'd have one bad dream after another."

"I tried all kinds of dyspepsia tablets, salts, and the like with no lasting effects whatever. Until, finally, I got hold of this new Sargon medicine. Three bottles put my stomach back in the shape it's been in years; stopped all that burning entirely and made me put on a nice gain of five pounds. It had a toning effect on my circulation that did away with those cramps and I sleep like a log now, and get up brimful of pep and energy. All my friends notice how much better I look and I always tell them that they would do well to try this remarkable medicine."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the Bess Drug Company; in Esquimalt from Fulmer's Drug Store; in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

UNCOMFORTABLE, ill-fitting underwear is a handicap. You can't feel right in a shrunken, irritating suit of underwear that seems to be cutting you in half—and you won't look your best either. For being well dressed starts from the skin out.

Perhaps that's why so many successful salesmen insist upon Stanfield's. They know, from experience, that this unshrinkable underwear always keeps its shape—that it is comfortable, easy, every day of its long life. They know that because it is tailored to exact measurements it fits perfectly. And they know that no matter how often it goes to the laundry, it comes back soft and warm. Little betterments, too, are important to them. They appreciate the way the four-hole buttons are put on—each backed so that you can't pull it off. And they value the amazingly longer wear Stanfield's gives.

If you are not now wearing this famous underwear—the largest selling in Canada—try one suit. Let it prove to you how much better underwear really can be.

Go to your favorite store today. Select the style and weight that suits you best. And remember Stanfield's costs you little or no more than ordinary underwear.

Empress of Japan Takes Large List

Gala Sailing Expected Tonight as Friends Bid Victorians Bon Voyage

Big Liner Is Taking Nearly 1,000 Passengers to Honolulu and the Orient

The sailing of the liner Empress of Japan from the Rithet Piers early this evening will be a more gala affair than usual for on board will be one of the largest lists of passengers of the year, including many Victorians, and people who have been visiting here for some time.

Friends of the Victoria-people will doubtless be on the dock before they embark on the new speed queen of the Pacific Ocean for the trip down to the Hawaiian Islands or across to the Orient. Many of the Japan's passengers will leave the ship at Honolulu to spend holidays there before returning to Victoria. Others will proceed with the ship to Japan, China and the Philippine Islands.

Honolulu, with its far-famed Waikiki Beach, where the surf bathing is the finest in the world, is calling Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woolton of Victoria. They were married in Victoria last Saturday and have since been spending their time up the island. They will return to Victoria from Honolulu by way of San Francisco.

LONDON VISITORS
Two visitors to Victoria, who have been here since April visiting with relatives will also be bound for Honolulu to spend several weeks. They are Mrs. E. G. Dottridge and Miss Annette Dottridge of London, England. Victorians who will go to Japan include Mrs. Fred Pollard and Miss Louise Pollard of Victoria. They will spend Christmas with relatives in the Flowery Kingdom and will return to Victoria early in the new year.

Another well-known Victoria couple who will enjoy a holiday in the Hawaiian Islands and who are sailing aboard the Empress of Japan to-night are Mr. and Mrs. Eric Birch-Jones of Beach Drive. They will also return to Victoria by way of San Francisco.

The Japan will have nearly 1,000 passengers in all classes when she sails about 6 o'clock this evening for across the Pacific. She left Vancouver at 11 o'clock this morning, and if she does not encounter fog in the Gulf or the Straits, she should be alongside the Rithet Piers shortly after 4 o'clock. In the first cabin of the big liner will be 240 passengers; in the second, seventy-eight; in the third, eighty, and in the steerage about 600 Chinese and Japanese.

VARIED LIST
Among the passengers are Perry Burgess of the Leonard Wood Memorial Company of New York City, who is en route to Bangkok to attend the international leprosy commission sessions; J. C. Rothwell, president of the Manila Electric Company, returning to the Philippine Islands from a business trip to Canada and the United States; Mrs. T. Hayakawa, wife of the Japanese film star, Sessue Hayakawa; Allan Cameron, manager in the Orient for the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived here on the Empress of Japan with Mrs. Cameron on August 22, and who has since been visiting in the east;

George A. Walker, traffic manager of the Kowloon and Canton Railway; J. H. Collins, Canadian Pacific agent at Yokohama; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cromwell of Vancouver, on a holiday trip to Honolulu and the Orient.

Prince Robert Taking Three Indies Trips

Attractive booklet, descriptive of the three trips which the new Canadian National steamer Prince Robert will take from Boston to the West Indies this winter reached the local C.N.R. ticket office this morning from company headquarters in Montreal. Victorians feel a special interest in the Prince Robert and her cruises from the east coast, because the ship was built for service out of Victoria and will arrive here next spring to enter the tri-city run opposite the Prince David.

On her winter cruises the Robert will sail from Boston on December 20, January 10 and January 31. Each cruise will be of fourteen days' duration and on the first one, Christmas Day and New Year's Eve will be celebrated at sea when special preparations will be made to fitly observe these two great days on board ship. Calls during the cruises will be made at Hamilton, Bermuda, Kingston, Jamaica and Havana. Two days will be given in each of these interesting ports, while the rest of the time will be spent cruising the blue waters of the Caribbean.

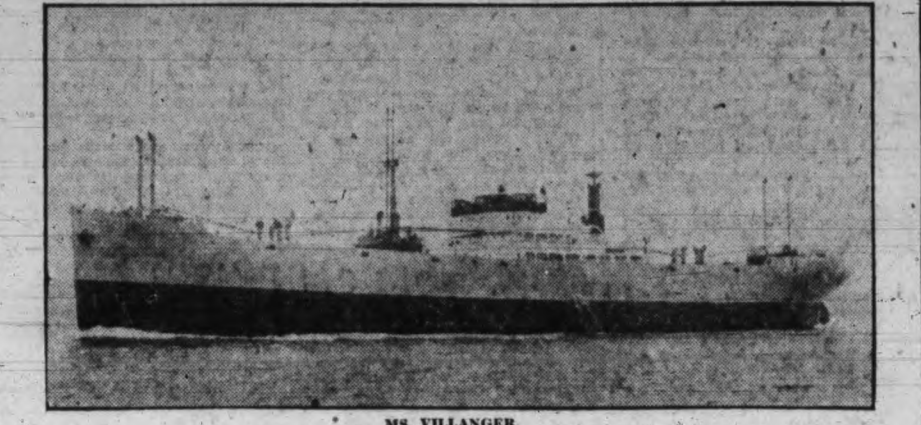

After her last cruise the Prince Robert will go to Halifax to be overhauled before she leaves on March 2 with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce party for the Indies and South America. When she returns from that trip towards the end of April she will leave the east coast of Vancouver to enter service here.

Ruth Alexander Is Due To-night From California

Although she left San Francisco two hours behind schedule on Tuesday, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Ruth Alexander is making good time on her voyage up the coast, and will dock at the Rithet piers here to-night at 11:30 o'clock. W. M. Allan, local agent, was advised this morning by wireless from Capt. Frank Landstrom, master of the ship. For Victoria the Ruth has thirty passengers and forty tons of general cargo. She will proceed to Seattle after about two hours in port.

Mr. Allan was also advised this morning that the American Mail liner President Jefferson will reach the William Head quarantine station to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. She will come alongside the Rithet piers about 7 o'clock in the evening and will proceed to Seattle at 2:30 o'clock the next morning.

A WELL-KNOWN SHIP THAT PASSES FREQUENTLY

MS. VILLAGER which has frequently passed by Victoria inbound and outbound to and from Vancouver. The Villager is one of the most modern motorships in service and is operating in the Pacific Coast-East Coast of South America route of the Westfall-Larsen Company.

FREIGHTERS KEEP OUTER DOCKS BUSY

Lycia Expected To-night From W. Indies; Sulairia in This Morning From Europe

San Diego and Other Lumber Boats Arrive and Depart; Quebec City in Esquimalt

The outer docks are busy this week with both freight and passenger liners. To-night about 9 o'clock the freighter Lycia is expected at the Ogden Point Piers from the West Indies with a parcel of salt for local discharge. King Brothers, local agents were advised this morning. The Lycia was expected this morning but fog off Cape Flattery is holding her at sea.

From the United Kingdom by way of the Panama Canal and California ports, the Donaldson freighter Sulairia docked at the Rithet Piers this morning at 7:30 o'clock, and after discharging 100 tons of general cargo proceeded to Vancouver at 10:30 o'clock.

The coast lumber carrier San Diego docked at the C.P.R. mill wharf in the upper inner harbor early this morning, and at 8 o'clock dock workers commenced loading 650 tons of lumber, lath and shingle board for San Pedro. She will be here until to-morrow afternoon.

LUMBER SHIPS
The freighter Dalblair, which has been at Ogden Point since Tuesday night, is expected to sail this evening direct for Shanghai. She took on 600 tons of Vancouver Island timber while here. The freighter Marian Oils Chandler, which was loading behind the Dalblair yesterday, shifted at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Port Alberni, where she will complete her cargo for the Atlantic Coast.

Out in Esquimalt Harbor the Rear Admiral Smith freighter Quebec City is riding at anchor awaiting orders from the Vancouver agents of the company. The Quebec City arrived in advance of schedule, and there is no berth for her in Vancouver, where she is due to load shortly, and the meantime Capt. Campbell and his officers and crew are enjoying the rest in Esquimalt Harbor. The Quebec City is a sister ship of the Vernon City, which was here in August.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Another famous old-time West Coast passenger steamer, the Newport, has ended her active service, and is to be scrapped. Mrs. L. D. Holden, district manager for the Diamond Line, announced here yesterday.

The Newport was built in 1880 for the old Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and for many years ran between San Francisco, Mexico and Central American ports. She was later purchased by the Los Angeles Dispatch Line, and when this company went out of business the steamer was operated by the McCormick Steamship Company in the Los Angeles-San Francisco-Portland trade.

Enlargement of the federal barge service between the Pacific and the Mississippi River will be discussed at a conference in Washington, D.C. next month. Col. Thomas B. Ealy, Pacific Coast representative of the service, said yesterday.

The government, Ealy said, contemplated opening branch offices in Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles to promote freight business for the inland waterways corporation.

Work Progresses On Damaged Ships Now in Esquimalt

Shean and H.M.C.S. Vancouver at Yarrow's Limited; Marguerite in Drydock

Work commenced this morning at 8 o'clock on repairs to the B.C. Cement Company's freighter Shean at the Esquimalt plant at Yarrow's Limited. The Shean arrived in Esquimalt Harbor overnight from Vancouver where she was grounded on Coal Point, in Deep Cove. The Shean is alongside the outfitting wharf where she will remain until floated onto the marine railway.

Workmen at Yarrow's are now engaged in cutting away the damaged portion on the hull of H.M.C.S. Vancouver which is up on the marine cradle for repairs. Several plates on the destroyer are damaged and they will have to be taken out and new ones fitted in.

Officials of the Government drydock at Esquimalt this morning floated the C.P.R. steamer Princess Marguerite into the basin for cleaning and painting. Yarrow's Limited are doing the work and expect to take the Marguerite out sometime to-night. She will be turned over to the C.P.R. to-morrow morning and in the afternoon will resume her sailings to Seattle from Victoria.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—All foxes from the Pacific Northwest and Alaska bound for Sweden will be held in quarantine at Gothenburg, not longer than fourteen days to determine if they are diseased, shipping men here were notified to-day. Fifty foxes and 300 mink will leave here Saturday for Gothenburg, going to New York by train to be trans-shipped on the Swedish-American liner Kungsholm.

Although on her maiden voyage and holding power of her twin Diesels in check, the new motorship Damatryck, of the joint Royal Mail and Holland-America service, logged 829 nautical miles in twenty-four hours in her run here from San Francisco. She is loading apples and general cargo for Europe, and moves from here to Tacoma and Portland.

More than 100,000 boxes of apples were loaded by the Karenta, of the same service, which sailed yesterday to complete its cargo for Europe at southern ports.

FOG DELAYS COAST SHIPS

Empress of Japan May Be Late; Hikawa Maru Did Not Pass Here Until To-day

Heavy fog settled low over the Gulf and the Straits during the night, delaying shipping considerably, but causing no serious accidents. Coast boats arriving here this morning were all on time, but several freighters were forced to proceed at a minimum of speed through the dense blankets of fog. The liner Empress of Japan will probably be late in arriving here from Port at 11 o'clock this morning and ran into heavy mists as soon as she rounded the Second Narrows, according to advices from Vancouver.

The N.Y.K. motor liner Hikawa Maru did not pass Victoria until 2:50 o'clock this morning on her way from Vancouver to the Far East. She was expected to be here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On her arrival from Seattle yesterday morning she was forced to drop anchor in English Bay and did not dock in Vancouver until early in the afternoon.

The weather was exceptionally foggy in mainland waters yesterday. The freighter Admiral Nulton was another ship anchored in English Bay yesterday.

GANGSTER OF KANSAS CITY KILLED BY MAN

Kansas City, Oct. 30.—Solly Weisman, swagging gangster who operated here and in several other mid-western cities, was shot and killed yesterday by a world picture yesterday by death, and his slayer was quickly freed by authorities.

The prosecutor's office decided Charles Haughton, manager of a horse race news service, had acted in self-defence when he fired a bullet into Weisman's neck late Tuesday.

The wound caused the gangster's death early yesterday. Haughton, a timid appearing sixty-four-year-old race track writer, called the last bluff of the 300-pound racketeer whose viciousness and intimidating threats had earned him the names of "Cutcher-head-off" and "Slacey" Solly. When the two met Tuesday in a downtown betting place Weisman muttered an opinion that Haughton did not have the nerve to shoot. Haughton said he fired when Weisman made a move as though to draw a weapon.

A few hours before the shooting Weisman had been freed of a liquor conspiracy charge in federal court because of the mysterious disappearance of the government's star witness in the case, involving the operation of a brewery raided several years ago.

LIQUOR PROFITS
Regina, Oct. 30.—Government liquor store profits during the six-month period ended September 30 decreased more than $500,000 from profits of the same period in 1929, figures issued here to-day reveal. Profits for the period this year totalled $769,470.35, compared with $1,326,328.42 for the six-month period ended September 30, 1929 and $1,078,085.36 for the intervening period ended March 31, 1930.

BISCUIT FIRM TO OPEN AGENCY IN VANCOUVER

Christie, Brown and Company Limited, bakers of the famous "Christie's Biscuits," have just announced that they will open a B.C. agency on Saturday. The office and warehouse will be located in the large two-story building at 1200 Hamilton Street, Vancouver.

According to the company's policy to supply "Christie's Biscuits" in the same oven-fresh condition they leave the bakeries, Christie and Brown considered the opening of a western agency of vital importance. In this way, they can give better service to their many dealers and customers of this territory. From a centrally located point they will make deliveries to any dealer in this entire area in a very short time.

Christie, Brown and Company Limited, B.C. agent for several years, has been appointed sales agent. He has had steady advancement with the company and it is due to his ability as a merchandiser and salesman that he is given this promotion. He will take charge of the agency from the date of the opening on November 1. Both business acquaintances and friends will be glad to learn of his advancement, for he has been a resident of Vancouver for many years, and is another one of Vancouver's boys to

Seven For a Secret

By MARY WEBB

"Ah! It's all like that when mother's off at farm," said Robert, setting out the mare, who nestled her nose softly into his rough coat. Robert never worked so well for anyone as for Robert. When he milked the cows, they gave more milk. No ewe, it was said, would drop her lambs untimely if he were shepherd. The very thing, obliged by hereditary instinct to 'steal' their nesses, would come forth with their bee-like swarms of chicks when Robert went by, revealing their sin and their glory to his eye alone.

"Ready!" said Robert. He gave Jonathan a sack round his knees, saw to the lamps, and opened the gate.

"Leave a light in stable, lad, when we come—if we come."

This was his customary phrase. If he only went to call the ducks from the pond, he bade his wife as fond a farewell as if he were going on a voyage. It was most probable that he would fall head foremost among the ducks and that the weeds would coil themselves about him and drag him down. It was curious that no one ever thought of stopping Jonathan doing these responsible tasks. For instance, he went to "lug" Mrs. Fanteague back because he always did so. Things happened; but so far, the worst had not occurred. There is a vein of optimistic fatalism in the country which always hopes that the worst never will happen. Besides, there was Mrs. Fanteague. Coming home, she would be in command. Even now, when she had not so much as alighted on the windswept wooden platform of the branch line station at the Keep, her presence, advancing solidly beyond the horizon, comforted him inexpressibly. There was also Winny, the mare. She would look after him. She understood him very well. When he jerked the old rein, she swerved to the rear, and vice versa. She knew every stone, every bit of uneven road, every stray cobweb, all the walking gradients and the slippery bits. She knew the place where the road ran beside the railway line for half a mile, just as you came to the Keep—where, if Robert had been driving, she would have been "nervy" and relied on him, on his voice and his firm hand on the reins—where, if anyone else had been driving, she would have run away. When she had Jonathan in the trap, she did not run away; she allowed herself to start or tremors. If he had left things entirely to her, nothing would ever have happened. The animal world, as it were, made up for the unkindness of the inanimate, was kind to him, and as the stocks and stones rose up and comforted him, the living creatures comforted him, motherly and consoling.

"To come and send you a bit, step-father, only I must see to sheep."

"Good-bye, lad, and God bless you," said Jonathan. "I'll be right enow when the mar gets going."

But as they swung out on to the moor, he turned and glanced at the comfortable "hit-windows-of-the-farm" and shook his head sadly and murmured: "Lad save me to lug Mrs. Fanteague back."

CHAPTER II.

A sharp young moon sidled up over the dark eastern shoulder of the moor.

The popularity of contract was well demonstrated at the recent championship tournament of the state of Pennsylvania, where all of the featured contests played were contract.

Several of the strongest teams in the country were present, and among the prominent players was Hal Sims, one of the world's most colorful players. In the play of the following hand, Mr. Sims sat in the South position, his partner, Sir Derrick J. Wernher, sat North.

THE BIDDING

The bidding was South one heart. West two clubs, Sir Derrick Wernher now bid three clubs, showing no losing clubs and a slam possibility. East passed, Mr. Sims holding two kings and knowing he was an advantageous lead, went to five hearts and his partner took him to six hearts.

"Did you make it?"
"Did I make the moon?"
"If you wanna tell, you wanna. You're pig-headed, Bob Rideout."
"I'm a was made."
"I'm sorry for you; but I'll sing the song."

"I took my little harp in hand, I wandered up and down the land, Up and down a many years, But howsoever far I roam, I couldn't find the smiles or tears Of whom."

"And every quiet evening I'd hear a call, Like creatures crying in their pain, Come home again!" said Robert. "Not so bad," said Robert. "Only you dunna make it coming enough at the end."

"I dunna want to. I want to startle folk. I want to sing till the bells fall down. I want to draw the tears out of their eyes and the money out of their pockets."

"Money?"
"Ah! Bags of it. I canna be a great lady without money."

"What all you, to want to be a lady?"
"I want a sparkling slipper on my feet, and a gown that goes 'hush! hush!' like growing grass, and them saying, 'There's Gillian Lovelkin' in a whisper."

"Much good may it do ye!"
"And young fellows coming, and me having rare raps with 'em, and this one saying, 'Marry me, Gillian Lovelkin' and that one saying, 'I love you, Miss Julian!' and me saying, 'Be off with ye!'"

"So you wouldn't marry 'em?"
"No danger! I want to hear the folk clapping me and joining in the chorus like at the Elsteadford—and my heart going pit-a-pat, and my face all red, knowing they'd cry when I made 'em, and laugh when I made 'em, and they'd remember Gillian Lovelkin to their death day."

"Lord save us! You're going to learn 'em summat seemly, Jill. You're summat cruel when you're set on a thing. Cuss it, I call it."

"And when I went to sleep, nights, and couldn't bear to forget I was being for ten hours—and when I went to sleep for good and all—then I wouldn't take it to heart, so well seeing as they'd remember me for ever and ever."

She drew up her slim body, which had the peculiar wandlike beauty given by a narrow back, sloping shoulders and slender hips. The scar on her forehead shone silver and relentless in the moonlight. The sheep stirred about her like uneasy souls, and the rabbits lying at her feet might have been a sacrifice to some woodland goddess.

Robert looked at her, straightly and attentively, for the first time in his life. Since his coming to the Gwifas twelve years ago, he had taken her for granted. Now he saw her. His dark and dreamy eyes, so well guarded by his lashes, his brooding forehead and his mouth, that was large and beautiful, the lips being laid together with the PLAY, knowing that his ace of clubs will be trumped out to the club bid by North right over his club bid, sets the diamond suit to open, and leads the jack which Sims lets ride to his king. The ten of clubs was led which West covered with the jack, dummy trumping with the deuce of hearts. The three of hearts is led from dummy, East shows out discarding the four of clubs. Sims plays the ace of hearts, West the six. The king of clubs is returned—when West covers with the ace, dummy trumps with the four of hearts. Sims follows with the nine and West the eight.

The queen of diamonds is led from dummy, Sims discarding the three of spades West following with the ten. Now hoping for a spade break, the four of spades is led from dummy, East plays the nine, Sims wins with the ace, following with the king and is now helpless. He is forced to lead a club which Sims trumps in the dummy with the eight of hearts, discarding the losing spade, his own hand.

By beautiful elimination and play, Mr. Sims has successfully made his contract of six hearts.

a police that partly concealed their first, seemed to absorb her.

In just the same way he drank in the beauty of the countryside, the strange, lovely shapes of trees and rocks.

While she stood there and thought of her future as she had planned it, she slipped into his being like a rain-drop into the heart of a flower, knowing that she knew what was happening, any more than the sheep knew when came the unease that always troubled them before snow.

Robert was almost as unconscious as a child, without a child's egotism. He saw the landscape, not Robert Rideout in the landscape. He saw the sheep, not Robert Rideout as the kindly shepherd in the midst of the sheep. Mountains did not make him think of himself climbing. He did not, as nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand do, instinctively look at himself when he came to a pond. There was nothing of Narcissus in his soul. He seldom wanted to imitate birds, but rather to listen more intently. So now he saw Gillian with the inward eye, heard her with inward hearing, drank her into his soul, but never thought of himself in relation to her. He saw her slender waist without his arm about it, her mouth unlinked. His eyes lingered on an shoulder and breast almost as men's eyes dwell on a Madonna, and to him the full-length portrait of Gillian was exactly as she herself saw it—alone, self-wrapped, self-complete.

Perhaps he was dreamy. Perhaps he developed late. His father had been just the same, only without Robert's poetry. He had not married Abigail till he was forty-five, though he had met her in his thirtieth year. Abigail had begun by laughing at him. But through those fifteen years she heard the gentlest of passions in his voice, until his least word could set her in a flutter.

Gillian was not sufficiently interested in Robert to laugh at him. She had seen, in her childish fashion, the vision desired by all humanity—the vision of a secure small nest of immortality built in the crumbling walls of time. She wanted to go on being herself even when she was dissolved in nothingness. She wanted to make men and women hear her, love her, run in the dove-grey, cooling silence of the farm, any mental absorption gained double force. So, while Simon purred, and Isahel Lovelkin made up his accounts, and Robert chopped wood outside, and Jonathan went through the vicissitudes of his day, Gillian built up this dream, in which she was always in the foreground, bathed in light, and masses of vague faces filled the background. When Mrs. Fanteague came from Silvertown bringing news of the world and a great feeling of stability, her dream became so vivid that it kept her awake at night.

Robert, with a long sigh, relinquished her to a bee legged a flower and like a flower, self-poised but fragile, seemed to shudder a little in her recovery.

He turned to lead the sheep home, and they followed him with crisply patting feet.

Horoscope

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1930

Benefic aspects rule to-day, according to astrologers, which finds the planetary government most favorable for Earth dwellers. It is pre-eminently a fortunate day for seeking employment and even for asking for promotion.

Under this direction of the stars those who are in any government office should benefit, since the public mind is likely to approve of their policies.

The fall elections will show strong loyalty to men who have proved their ability in public service. It is forecast.

While political novices will receive encouragement in certain states, the trend of voters will be toward the men and the women who have endured the test of success, astrologers forecast.

This should be a most fortunate away for all sorts of publicity and newspapers should profit.

Writers as well as editors and publishers appear to be subject to the best possible planetary influences.

Although this is not a day for making important decisions, it is a time for visioning future matters.

Educators to-day should be lucky, since the stars seem to promise for the young a serious interest in the business of getting ready for future responsibilities.

November is to be a month of great progress in many branches of industry. It is forecast. Jupiter will be in a place most stimulating to trade. It is prognosticated with Saturn, near the meridian and Uranus rises. New York and Washington next month may meet with unusual civic problems.

Persons whose birthdate is 11 have the luxury of a year in which property interests increase. An inheritance is prepared by the stars.

Children born on this day probably will be reserved and thoughtful. The subjects of this sign are usually strong in purpose and exceedingly self-reliant.

Philo Remington, noted manufacturer, was born on this day, 1818; also John Evelyn, 1720, English author.

THRESHING IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Oct. 30.—A limitation on the bushelage of wheat to be dried for any one farmer, as proposed from Ottawa, in the event of the Government adopting a scheme for free or assisted drying in behalf of prairie provinces, is regarded by Hon. George Hoadley, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, as satisfactory and under certain conditions necessary.

As far as Alberta is concerned, however, it will be unnecessary, the minister says, if the present good weather continues. Frost at night and bright, clear, or windy days are providing exactly the conditions needed for good drying, and advantage is being taken of them all over the province. If it were a question of all the grain still unthreshed having to be artificially dried, it would be necessary to limit the quantity to be done for any one person, but every continuing day of fine weather is lessening the need of elevator drying for the Alberta crop.

Have Women Advantages Over Men?—Do Real Girls Always Take Dares, Even Unto Marriage?—Can Love Be Revived?

DEAR MISS DIX—You say all women wish they had been born men. I don't. I am glad I am a woman. I think women have many advantages over men. One of them is we can follow the arts without being thought effeminate, as are men. Then we can get much more enjoyment out of our families than men can. Then we can get more pleasure from our clothes, because they are prettier and there is more variety. Do write an article on how thankful women should be for being women.

M. McC.

Answer: I don't agree with you that women have much cause for self-congratulation in being born women, but it is a great thing to be able to reconcile oneself to one's fate and to be contented in that sphere of life to which God has called you, as the Prayer Book says.

At any rate, if you are a woman there is nothing you can do about it, and so the wise thing is to concentrate upon the silver lining to your cloud instead of being depressed by the dark, dark outside of it. And, of course, to be a woman is not entirely a total loss. Some roses grow along our pathway even if our road is a lot steeper and strewn with many more tacks than the one along which men joyride.

But you are mistaken in thinking that anyone considers it effeminate for men to devote their lives to the arts. All the great painters and musicians are men, and we do not despise them. We burn incense before them. Nor do I see why men should get less pleasure out of their families than women do. It seems to me that they get the fun out of their babies without the agony of having them or the bother of having to care for them.

But I agree with you that clothes are a consolation prize that fate has bestowed upon women. It must be a depressing thing to be doomed to nothing but a lot of tubular garments, such as like the other that the own maker could hardly tell them apart. To have no frilleries, no fluffs, no furbelows. To have to be always clothed in sombre colors when one's soul cries out for reds and yellows and pinks and blues. To have to suppress one's longing for glittering jewels; that is, indeed, the fly in the amber of being a man.

Then a kindred advantage that women have over men is in the joy they have out of shopping. This is a pleasure denied to all but a few men. For most men shopping is an ordeal instead of the orgy it is to women. When anything goes wrong with a man all that he can do, poor soul, is to go out and get drunk, but a woman can jam on her hat and make for the nearest department store and buy something she doesn't need and doesn't want and come home with her nerves quieted and her soul at rest.

The women have the privilege of tears that is denied to men, and greater grief than tears there is not. There is no arguing with tears. There is no combating them. You can only stanch them at whatever price. When a woman is getting the worst of an argument, all that she has to do is to burst into tears and that ends it and leaves her the victor. When there is something to do that she ought to do and doesn't want to do, she merely turns on the weeps and somebody else gets up and does it for her. When she wants the moon she cries for it and somebody gives it to her. A crying woman would be kicked out of court, but a woman with a good pair of tear ducts just naturally floats along through life on a rippling tide of ease.

Still another advantage women have over men is that they can get away with a lot more things than men can, especially if they are young and pretty. A peachero of a flapper with golden hair and blue eyes can spell as she likes and add up figures as she pleases and spend most of her time powdering her nose and still hold down a job. It is only after women get old and homely that they have to be efficient, whereas no amount of classic profile and slick hair enables a boy to get by if he lacks in his work.

And so far as achieving fortune is concerned, a woman has two chances to a man's one, because if she doesn't make good herself she can marry a man who has made good. Most of the valuable real estate in this country is owned by women who have married it. Also, in the profession of gold-digging the advantage is with the female miner rather than the male, for it is just easier to get money out of an old man's pocket than out of an old woman's.

And, of course, women have a more thrilling emotional life than men have, because in the first place a woman doesn't know whether she is going to be able to capture a husband or not, and if she gets one she never knows how long she is going to be able to keep him, whereas a man always knows that he can marry whenever he gets good and ready and that the chances are he couldn't lose his wife if he wanted to.

So you see there are some advantages in being a woman, after all.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—We have always been told that real girls will never take a dare. Now we are two schoolgirls, fifteen and sixteen years old, who are very modern, and we have been dared by two boys to marry them, and we have accepted the challenge. We sincerely ask your advice about this.

TWO PERPLEXED FLAPPERS.

Answer: Two real girls, even if they are only fifteen and sixteen years old, should have more sense and sophistication than to wreck their own lives and break their parents' hearts, by even considering marrying on a dare. I suppose in accepting the boys' challenge you thought you showed how much sporting blood you had, but in reality it only showed how silly you are.

It doesn't prove an individual brave for him or her to take unnecessary risks. It only shows that he or she is foolhardy and lacking in intelligence and judgment. And believe me, my children, you will find that marriage has perils enough for a woman, even when she goes into it soberly, thoughtfully and with due regard for all the chances she is taking.

Stop and think that marriage is not for the moment, but for the long pull. It isn't a danger that you can bluff out for a moment. It is something that will make a call upon your courage and endurance every minute of every day for years and years. It isn't something that you do for a lark. It is something that will affect your whole lives, and if you married these boys on a dare you will be paying for your folly to the last day of your lives.

You will have no chance of happiness, because you are not entering marriage right. You don't love these boys. You are too young to know what love really is. You are taking upon yourselves responsibilities for which neither you nor the boys are fitted. The boys cannot even support you. By the time you and these lads are grown up you will simply hate each other, because each of you will blame the other for the wrecks you have made of your lives.

So don't marry on a dare. Don't think that there is anything about such a silly thing that shows you are true blue or have red blood or any other such nonsense. You wouldn't accept a dare to take a dose of prussic acid or to jump off a precipice or do anything else that would kill you, yet it would be far better for you to do so than to marry on a dare, because at least the agony of dying is short, while that of an unhappy marriage is long drawn out.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I simply worship a man who for a time loved me but within the last year a gradual change has taken place in him and I am forced to the conclusion that he does not love me nearly as much as he did. Tell me how either to make him care for me again or how not to care for him any more.

KATHERINE.

Answer: Nobody can tell you that, dear lady. Nobody knows any conjure that can either make love or kill it. The heart is an unruly member and acknowledges no law.

Sometimes waning love can be stimulated by absence. Sometimes a man loses his taste for a woman just because he is fed up with her and if she goes away for a time it revives his interest in her and he misses her and wants her, but this recipe does not always work. And as a general thing, when love is dead there is no breathing life into its corpse again.

For the woman who still loves after the man has ceased to love there is only work, filling her life, so full she has no time to think, and this is, only a sedative, not a cure.

DOROTHY DIX.
